Target Audience and Prerequisites

As already said, the Cisco 300-535 exam is associated with two sought-after certifications. The first one is CCNP Service Provider that authenticates one's professional-level comprehension. It is a good choice for the network engineers, network specialists, and systems engineers who can provide scalable infrastructures that are able to support managed services along with various customer requirements. This certificate also covers their automation and programmability skills. In other words, to obtain this Cisco certification, the applicants should be knowledgeable in the areas, such as configuration, verification, troubleshooting, and optimizing IP network infrastructures. Moreover, the individuals interested in becoming a certified specialist must go through one more test, which is known as 350-501 SPCOR.

Cisco Certified DevNet Professional is the second certificate related to the 300-535 Exam. It proves the students' understanding and skills in the development and maintenance of applications that are built by Cisco. This certification is useful for those individuals who have knowledge and insight into APIs, application development on the Cisco platform, automation, and infrastructures. The candidates should also complete the 350-901 DEVCOR test to get certified. Earning this certificate will prove one's expertise in the implementation of network apps on the Cisco platform along with their design, testing, and development.

NEW QUESTION # 90

Refer to the exhibit. Which YANG model was used as a basis to create the XML instance in the exhibit?

□

- A. □
- B. □
- C. □
- D. □

Answer: D

Explanation:

The XML instance uses a <neighbors> container that allows multiple <peer-ip-address>, <remote-as>, and multiple <enabled-af> entries under each neighbor, matching the structure and leaf-list of enabled-af. This aligns with the way address families are modeled as a list in the YANG definition.

NEW QUESTION # 91

Refer to the exhibit.
