NEW QUESTION # 56

Which Harmony Endpoint environment is better choice for companies looking for more control when deploying the product?

- A. On-premises environment, because it offers more options for deployment, greater control over operations, but is also more costly to support.
- B. Both On-premises and Cloud environment is the right choice. Both offer same control over the operations, when deploying the product only difference is in support cost.
- C. On-premises environment, because it offers more options for client deployments and features, same control over the operations as in Cloud environment but is more costly to support.
- D. Cloud environment, because it offers easier deployment of servers, offers same control over operations as in On-premises environments, but is not as costly to support.

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to Check Point documentation, the on-premises environment provides organizations with significantly greater control over product deployment and operation, including more extensive configuration options compared to a cloud-managed environment. Although this level of control is advantageous, it is also noted that it typically comes with higher support and maintenance costs.
