Huawei HCSA-Presales-Storage V4.0 Sample Questions (Q309-Q314):

NEW QUESTION # 309

Which statements are correct about NVMe over Fabrics (NVMe-oF) (RoCE v2)? (Choose all that apply.)

- A. Traditional Ethernet can transmit NVMe-oF (RoCE v2) data packets without packet loss.
- B. The cost of NVMe-oF (RoCE v2) is generally higher than that of NVMe-oF (Fibre Channel).
- C. NVMe-oF (RoCE v2) significantly improves performance by using the remote direct memory access (RDMA) technology.
- D. Lossless Ethernet can transmit NVMe-oF (RoCE v2) data packets.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

NVMe-oF (RoCE v2) uses RDMA technology, which allows direct memory access between storage and servers, greatly improving data transfer speed and reducing latency.

NVMe-oF (RoCE v2) requires lossless Ethernet to reliably transmit data packets, as packet loss would impact performance and data integrity.

NEW QUESTION # 310

In the medical picture archiving and communication system (PACS), X-ray, MRI, CT, and ultrasound tests generate a large number of image files every day. The file size ranges from 100 KB to 1 MB. Which of the following Huawei NAS products are recommended for the system? (Select all that apply)

- A. OceanStor Dorado NAS
- B. OceanStor hybrid flash storage NAS
- C. FusionCube
- D. OceanStor Pacific

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Huawei provides tailored solutions for Medical PACS based on the specific performance and scale requirements of healthcare providers. OceanStor Dorado NAS (Option D) is recommended for the "Hot Data" or active tier of a PACS system. Because medical images between 100 KB and 1 MB require high-concurrency access and extremely low latency for immediate clinical review, the FlashLink technology and all-flash architecture of the Dorado series provide the necessary IOPS to prevent bottlenecks during peak hours.

OceanStor Pacific (Option C) is the primary recommendation for the massive, long-term unstructured data storage required by PACS. A single hospital can generate petabytes of data over several years. OceanStor Pacific's scale-out architecture allows it to handle billions of small files efficiently using a global namespace, and its high-ratio Erasure Coding (EC) ensures maximum capacity utilization and lower TCO for archives. While Hybrid Flash (Option A) can be used, it is often superseded by the superior performance of Dorado or the superior scalability of Pacific in modern medical environments. FusionCube (Option B) is an HCI solution more suited for edge computing or virtualization rather than specialized, large-scale medical imaging repositories.

NEW QUESTION # 311

Which of the following is not a typical object storage scenario?

- A. Backup and archiving
- B. Online video
- C. HD editing
- D. Check image

Answer: C

Explanation:

HD editing is not a typical object storage scenario because it requires low-latency, high- performance storage for real-time editing, which is better suited to block storage or NAS solutions. Object storage is more commonly used for scenarios like check image storage, online video, and backup and archiving, which involve large amounts of unstructured data that can tolerate slightly higher latency.

NEW QUESTION # 312

What are the typical application scenarios for SAN storage? (Choose all that apply.)

- A. Database
- B. Virtualization
- C. File sharing
- D. Just a Bundle Of Disks (JBOD)

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

SAN storage is typically used in scenarios such as virtualization (supporting virtual machines and environments), databases (providing high performance and reliability for transactional systems), and file sharing (enabling shared access to files across multiple servers). JBOD is not a typical SAN application; it refers to a simple array of disks without advanced storage features.

NEW QUESTION # 313

Which of the following are features of multi-protocol interworking of Huawei OceanStor Pacific? (Select all that apply)

- A. Zero data copy
- B. Gateway-free
- C. Structured and unstructured data interworking
- D. No semantic or performance compromise

Answer: A,B,D

Explanation:

Huawei's Multi-protocol Lossless Interworking is a standout feature of the OceanStor Pacific series, allowing one copy of data to be shared across different protocols (File, Object, HDFS).

No Semantic or Performance Compromise (Option B): Historically, protocol conversion (e.g., using a gateway) led to performance loss or "semantic loss" where certain file attributes or object tags were dropped. OceanStor Pacific implements native support for multiple protocols at the metadata level, ensuring full semantic compatibility and high-speed access regardless of the protocol used.

Zero Data Copy (Option C): This feature allows one piece of data to be written via one protocol (e.g., ingested via S3) and read via another (e.g., analyzed via HDFS) without moving or copying the data to a separate system. This eliminates "data silos" and greatly improves data processing efficiency.

Gateway-free (Option D): Because the interworking is native to the storage OS, no external protocol gateways are required. This simplifies the management architecture and reduces the hardware footprint.

Option A is incorrect because documentation generally advises against mixing structured (Database) and unstructured data in the same pool for optimal performance, though the system is primarily optimized for unstructured workloads.
