A manufacturing company has placed computers all around the manufacturing area to help machine operators to relax during their lunch break and check their e-mails or social media. The company is doing so in an attempt to stop the machine operators from being distracted by their phones during their work and all the dangers that come with being distracted in a manufacturing area.

All the computers are connected to both the intranet and the internet. This allows an internal news bulletin and all policies and procedures to be displayed easily. There are regular updates, for example on family events, updates of procedures, bonus-related information and news on the employee of the month.

In addition to involving employees by sharing company news with them, all procedures are on the intranet. Anything from safe work practice guidelines to social media guidelines can be found on the intranet.

To use the computer, no login is needed. All computers are configured to be accessible to anyone, with ease. A downside of this is a shared hard-drive, and the older

IAPP Certified Information Privacy Manager (CIPM) Sample Questions (Q206-Q211):

NEW QUESTION # 206

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next QUESTION:

Edufoxx has hosted an annual convention of users of its famous e-learning software platform, and over time, it has become a grand event. It fills one of the large downtown conference hotels and overflows into the others, with several thousand attendees enjoying three days of presentations, panel discussions and networking. The convention is the centerpiece of the company's product rollout schedule and a great training opportunity for current users. The sales force also encourages prospective clients to attend to get a better sense of the ways in which the system can be customized to meet diverse needs and understand that when they buy into this system, they are joining a community that feels like family.

This year's conference is only three weeks away, and you have just heard news of a new initiative supporting it: a smartphone app for attendees. The app will support late registration, highlight the featured presentations and provide a mobile version of the conference program. It also links to a restaurant reservation system with the best cuisine in the areas featured. "It's going to be great," the developer, Deidre Hoffman, tells you, "if, that is, we actually get it working!" She laughs nervously but explains that because of the tight time frame she'd been given to build the app, she outsourced the job to a local firm. "It's just three young people," she says, "but they do great work." She describes some of the other apps they have built. When asked how they were selected for this job, Deidre shrugs. "They do good work, so I chose them." Deidre is a terrific employee with a strong track record. That's why she's been charged to deliver this rushed project. You're sure she has the best interests of the company at heart, and you don't doubt that she's under pressure to meet a deadline that cannot be pushed back. However, you have concerns about the app's handling of personal data and its security safeguards. Over lunch in the break room, you start to talk to her about it, but she quickly tries to reassure you, "I'm sure with your help we can fix any security issues if we have to, but I doubt there'll be any. These people build apps for a living, and they know what they're doing. You worry too much, but that's why you're so good at your job!" Which is the best first step in understanding the data security practices of a potential vendor?

- A. Conducting a penetration test of the vendor's data security structure.
- B. Requiring the vendor to complete a questionnaire assessing International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 27001 compliance.
- C. Examining investigation records of any breaches the vendor has experienced.
- D. Conducting a physical audit of the vendor's facilities.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 207

"Collection", "access" and "destruction" are aspects of what privacy management process?

- A. The breach response plan
- B. The metric life cycle
- C. The business case
- D. The data governance strategy

Answer: B

Explanation:

The metric life cycle is a process that involves collecting, accessing, analyzing, reporting, and destroying data. These aspects are essential for measuring the performance and effectiveness of privacy programs. Reference: IAPP CIPM Study Guide, page 14.

NEW QUESTION # 208

Which of the following is NOT a main technical data control area?

- A. Obfuscation.
- B. Access controls.
- C. Tokenization.
- D. Data minimization.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

Obfuscation is not a main technical data control area. Obfuscation means hiding or disguising data or information to make it less intelligible or accessible. Obfuscation can be used as a security measure or a privacy-enhancing technique, but it is not a specific type of data control. The main technical data control areas are tokenization, encryption, access controls, and data minimization. Tokenization means replacing sensitive data with non-sensitive substitutes called tokens that have no intrinsic value. Encryption means transforming data into an unreadable format that can only be decrypted with a key. Access controls mean restricting who can access or modify data based on their roles, permissions, or authentication methods. Data minimization means collecting, storing, and processing only the minimum amount of data necessary for a specific purpose^{1, 2}. NEW QUESTION # 209

Which of the following best supports implementing controls to bring privacy policies into effect?

- A. The information technology (IT) group supporting and enhancing the privacy program and privacy policy by developing processes and controls.
- B. The legal department or outside counsel conducting a thorough review of the privacy program and policies.
- C. The Chief Information Officer as part of the Senior Management Team creating enterprise privacy policies to ensure controls are available.
- D. The internal audit department establishing the audit controls which test for policy effectiveness.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 210

When implementing Privacy by Design (PbD), what would NOT be a key consideration?

- A. Collection limitation.
- B. Limitations on liability.
- C. Data minimization.
- D. Purpose specification.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

Limitations on liability are not a key consideration when implementing Privacy by Design (PbD). PbD is a methodology that aims to protect privacy by embedding it into the design of systems and data. The key considerations for PbD are based on seven principles that include collection limitation, data minimization, and purpose specification, among others. Limitations on liability are more relevant for contractual or legal aspects of privacy, not for design or engineering aspects.
