Archer Certified Administrator-Expert Sample Questions (Q45-Q50):

NEW QUESTION # 45

Which statement best describes the advantages of using SSO in Archer?

- A. All these answers are correct
- B. Improved Security
- C. Reduced Password Fatigue and Help Desk Costs
- D. Increased Productivity

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the Archer Administration and Security documentation, Single Sign-On (SSO) integration provides a multi-faceted advantage for both the end-user and the system administrator. Reduced Password Fatigue occurs because users no longer need to remember unique credentials for Archer, which directly leads to a decrease in Help Desk Costs associated with password reset requests. Increased Productivity is achieved through seamless access; users can move from their workstation or corporate portal directly into Archer without the interruption of a manual login prompt.

Furthermore, Improved Security is a primary driver for SSO. By leveraging centralized authentication providers (like Active Directory via SAML 2.0 or Windows Integrated Authentication), Archer administrators ensure that corporate password policies (complexity, rotation, and MFA) are strictly enforced. When an employee leaves the organization and their account is disabled in the central directory, their access to Archer is revoked instantaneously. This eliminates the risk of "orphan accounts" existing within the Archer user database. Therefore, because SSO addresses administrative overhead, user experience, and enterprise-grade security protocols simultaneously, "All these answers are correct" is the verified professional standard.

NEW QUESTION # 46

When selecting "Load Fields" in the Source Definition tab > Source Data sub-tab of an Archer Web Services Transporter Data Feed, no fields appear. What should you check to fix this?

- A. Confirm the Data Feed target application or questionnaire is set correctly.
- B. Confirm the Data Feed is set to Active.
- C. Confirm the settings on the Transport Configuration section within the Source Connection tab are correct.
- D. Confirm the settings on the Source Definition tab > Data Filter sub-tab are correct.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Archer Web Services Transporter is used for "Archer-to-Archer" data feeds. For the "Load Fields" button to work, Archer must be able to successfully authenticate and connect to the source instance's API to retrieve the report metadata. As detailed in the Archer Administration II Data Feed module, if no fields appear, it almost always indicates a communication failure between the Feed Manager and the Web Service. The Transport Configuration section (found on the Source Connection tab) contains the critical connection details: the Base URL, the Instance Name, and the User Credentials. If the credentials are incorrect, the URL is mistyped, or the "Session Token" cannot be generated, Archer cannot "see" the source report's structure, and thus the field list will remain empty. Checking the connection settings is the primary troubleshooting step before looking at filters or target mappings.

NEW QUESTION # 47

When executing an advanced search, some fields appear as available for selection, and some fields are automatically selected for you in the "Fields to Display" Pane. If you are looking for a field in the Available list, but do not see it, which of the following field configurations is likely to be in effect?

- A. "Make This a Searchable Field" Option is disabled for this field.
- B. "Make this the key field" option is selected for the field.
- C. "Display advanced formatting options" option is enabled for the field.
- D. "Display this field in global search results" option is enabled for the field.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Archer, not every field created in an application is automatically indexed for searching. Within the Field Properties (General Tab), there is a checkbox titled "Searchable." As taught in Archer Administration II, if this option is unchecked, the field will be invisible to the Advanced Search tool.

This is often done by administrators to improve system performance or to hide technical "helper" fields (like those used in calculations or DDEs) that have no business value for end-user reporting. If a field is missing from the "Available" list in the search builder, the administrator must go back to the Application Builder, edit the field's properties, and ensure the "Searchable" checkbox is enabled. Option B (Key Field) would actually make the field more prominent, and Options C and D do not control the visibility of fields within the Advanced Search interface.

NEW QUESTION # 48

When building a Calculated field, the administrator is struggling to remember if the COUNT or COUNTA function is the right one to use for a given purpose. What is the best approach for the administrator to take to solve this dilemma?

- A. Use the Help section within the Formula Builder to learn about each of these functions and see some examples of syntax for each.
- B. Consult with Archer Professional Services whenever Calculated fields are required.
- C. Create multiple fields, one using COUNT and one using COUNTA, and from there determine the correct one to use.

- D. Open a ticket with Archer Support for guidance.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Archer Formula Builder is equipped with a built-in documentation tool specifically designed to assist administrators with syntax and logic. As taught in the Archer Administration II course, clicking the "Help" or "Info" icon within the Formula Builder interface provides a searchable library of all available functions.

For the COUNT vs. COUNTA dilemma, the Help section clarifies that COUNT is typically used for numeric values, whereas COUNTA (Count All) counts any cell that is not empty, including text and dates. This built-in resource provides the exact syntax and common use-case examples, making it the most efficient and standard "best practice" for self-service troubleshooting. Options C and D are inefficient for such a common task, and Option A is a "trial and error" approach that can lead to database clutter and performance issues if calculations are built incorrectly during the testing phase.

NEW QUESTION # 49

In multi-host Archer installation, same Archer configuration certificate should be used in:

- A. Web and SQL servers
- B. Web and Services servers
- C. Web and DC servers
- D. Web, SQL, Services servers

Answer: B

Explanation:

In a distributed Archer environment, the Archer Configuration Certificate is used to encrypt and secure communication between the Archer Control Panel (ACP) and the various server nodes. As taught in Archer Administration II, this certificate ensures that only authorized servers can join the instance and access the encrypted configuration files (like settings.config).

The certificate must be installed on all Web and Services servers. The Web server requires it to process user requests and communicate with the ACP, while the Services server (which handles the Job Engine, Indexing, and Workflow) requires it to decrypt the task instructions it receives. The SQL Server (Option B and C) does not require the Archer Configuration Certificate because it interacts with Archer via standard SQL authentication or Windows Authentication protocols at the database layer; it does not run the Archer Configuration Service. "DC servers" (Domain Controllers) are also outside the scope of this certificate requirement.
