- A. Interview the network manager about the issues being experienced
- B. Observe the problem
- C. Obtain detailed -knowledge of the wireless vendors debug and logging options
- D. Talk to the end users about their experiences

Answer: B

Observing the problem is the most important step in the WLAN troubleshooting methodology among those listed. This step involves capturing and analyzing the relevant data from the wireless network, such as packets, frames, spectrum, and performance metrics. Observing the problem helps to verify the existence and scope of the issue, identify the root cause and possible solutions, and validate the results of any actions taken. The other steps are also important, but they are not as critical as observing the problem12

NEW QUESTION # 60

- A. To request a list of neighboring APs which the STA can use as roaming candidates
- B. To learn about neighboring interference sources and tune its RF radio accordingly

- C. To inform the current AP about the STA's intent to roam to a neighboring AP, ensuring a seamless handover
- D. To request a list of neighboring STAs which enables the STA to better pick the right protection mechanisms

Answer: A

Explanation:

A STA that supports 802.11k Radio Measurement would send a Neighbor Request to an AP to request a list of neighboring APs which the STA can use as roaming candidates. A Neighbor Request is an Action frame that contains a subelement specifying the type of information that the STA wants to receive from the AP. A Neighbor Report is an Action frame that contains a subelement with a list of neighboring APs that match the criteria specified in the Neighbor Request. The Neighbor Report provides information such as BSSID, channel, operating class, and PHY type of each neighboring AP. This information helps the STA to perform intelligent roaming decisions based on signal quality, load, and compatibility.
