Adobe Commerce Developer Expert Sample Questions (Q39-Q44):

NEW QUESTION # 39

A Developer is integrating a custom third-party gift card system into the Adobe Commerce checkout. During checkout, a customer enters a store-bought gift card for payment, and depending on external API checks, the gift card is verified and allowed to be used on the order.

Which approach should be used for the internal processing of such functionality?

- A. Create an Adobe Commerce gift card account and manage the account using the gift card repositories.
- B. Create a unique voucher code for each gift card usage request which grants a discount on the order's total.
- C. Directly subtract the gift card amount from the order, keeping no history of the discount transaction.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct way to integrate external gift cards is to generate a unique discount (voucher code) that maps to the validated gift card value. This approach ensures that the transaction is recorded in Magento's discount system, preserving order and accounting integrity.

A is incorrect because Adobe Commerce gift card accounts are native to the Commerce Gift Card module and not applicable to external systems.

C is incorrect as directly subtracting amounts without transaction history violates best practices and auditability.

B is correct: mapping external validation into a voucher/discount ensures proper tracking.

NEW QUESTION # 40

A client receives an alert stating that storage on their production environment is nearly full. They are using Pro architecture and are concerned about storage capacity. A Developer is asked to increase the disk size.

How should this problem be solved?

- A. Extend their Adobe license.
- B. Modify the magento.app.yaml file.
- C. Open a ticket with Adobe support.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 41

A Developer is tasked with extending the GraphQL capabilities of a client's Adobe Commerce project by adding custom attributes to the product query.

Which step should the Developer take to correctly implement this GraphQL customization?

- A. Add aroundGetList and afterGetList plugins to the ProductRepositoryInterface to reflect the new attributes.
- B. Extend the ProductInterface by creating a schema.graphqls file in the custom module's etc directory.
- C. Add new attributes in the Adobe Commerce admin panel to reflect the additions.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct way to extend GraphQL is to extend the schema via schema.graphqls.

Define new fields for ProductInterface.

Provide a resolver class to return the attribute values.

B is incorrect: adding attributes in admin does not automatically expose them in GraphQL.

C is incorrect: repository plugins affect service contracts, not GraphQL schema definitions.

NEW QUESTION # 42

A new critical security vulnerability is found on Adobe Commerce Cloud. The successful exploitation may lead to arbitrary code execution, so the Developer must apply a security patch file given by Adobe as soon as possible to ensure system security.

How should the Developer apply the security patch on Adobe Commerce hosted on cloud infrastructure according to best practices?

- A. Upgrade Adobe Commerce to the latest security patch release.
- B. Copy a security patch to m2-hotfixes directory.
- C. Apply a security patch using composer.json.

Answer: B

Explanation:

On Adobe Commerce Cloud, the best practice for urgent fixes is to place the patch file into the m2-hotfixes directory at the root of the project. Patches in this directory are automatically applied during the Cloud build and deploy process.

Option A (composer.json) applies to composer-based patches in on-premise installations, not the recommended cloud approach.

Option C (upgrade to latest release) is ideal for long-term but not feasible for urgent fixes that must be applied immediately.
