Which of the following basic economic realities makes budgeting necessary?

- A. Scarcity of resources
- B. Marketplace conditions
- C. Service-to-market timing
- D. Competitive pressure

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 87

When promoting quality improvement plans, the quality manager should take which of the following actions first?

- A. Perform a market growth analysis
- B. Perform a benchmarking study
- C. Obtain senior management support
- D. Obtain information about competitor processes

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 88

Which of the following questions should a company ask before adopting a new technology?

- A. "Will it remove our communications barriers?"
- B. "Will solve our existing problems or only create new ones"?
- C. "Will it eliminate our need for updating support systems?"
- C "Will it reduce our research and development costs?"

Answer: B

Explanation:

Before adopting new technology, a company should assess whether the technology will address current challenges without introducing significant new issues. This involves considering the compatibility of the new technology with existing systems, its ability to enhance operational efficiency, and its potential to introduce unforeseen complications. The goal is to ensure that the technology will be a beneficial addition rather than a source of new problems.

: While I cannot directly verify the answer from the ASQ documentation, this approach is consistent with best practices in technology adoption, which emphasize the importance of solving existing problems and improving processes without creating additional challenges¹².
