Oracle Cloud Infrastructure 2024 Generative AI Professional Sample Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19

How does the integration of a vector database into Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG)-based Large Language Models(LLMs) fundamentally alter their responses?

- A. It enables them to bypass the need for pretraining on large text corpora.
- B. It transforms their architecture from a neural network to a traditional database system.
- C. It limits their ability to understand and generate natural language.
- D. It shifts the basis of their responses from pretrained internal knowledge to real-time data retrieval.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The integration of a vector database into Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG)-based Large Language Models (LLMs) fundamentally alters their responses by shifting the basis from pretrained internal knowledge to real-time data retrieval. This means that instead of relying solely on the knowledge encoded in the model during training, the LLM can retrieve and incorporate up-to-date and relevant information from an external database in real time. This enhances the model's ability to generate accurate and contextually relevant responses.

NEW QUESTION # 20

Which is NOT a typical use case for LangSmith Evaluators?

- A. Aliening code readability
- B. Evaluating factual accuracy of outputs
- C. Measuring coherence of generated text
- D. Detecting bias or toxicity

Answer: A

Explanation:

LangSmith Evaluators are not typically used for aligning code readability. Instead, they are used for tasks such as measuring the coherence of generated text, evaluating the factual accuracy of outputs, and detecting bias or toxicity. Evaluators help ensure the quality and reliability of the outputs generated by language models.

NEW QUESTION # 21

What is the primary purpose of LangSmith Tracing?

- A. To generate test cases for language models
- B. To debug issues in language model outputs
- C. To monitor the performance of language models
- D. To analyze the reasoning process of language

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which statement describes the difference between Top V and Top p" in selecting the next token in the OCI Generative AI Generation models?

- A. Top k and Top p" both select from the same set of tokens but use different methods to prioritize them based on frequency.
- B. Top k selects the next token based on its position in the list of probable tokens, whereas "Top p" selects based on the cumulative probability of the Top token.
- C. Top k and "Top p" are identical in their approach to token selection but differ in their application of penalties to tokens.
- D. Top K considers the sum of probabilities of the top tokens, whereas Top" selects from the Top k" tokens sorted by probability.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The difference between "Top k" and "Top p" in selecting the next token in generative models lies in their selection criteria:

Top k: This method selects the next token from the top k tokens based on their probability scores. It restricts the selection to a fixed number of the most probable tokens, irrespective of their cumulative probability.

Top p: Also known as nucleus sampling, this method selects tokens based on the cumulative probability until it exceeds a certain threshold p. It dynamically adjusts the number of tokens considered, ensuring that the sum of their probabilities meets or exceeds the specified p value. This allows for a more flexible and often more diverse selection compared to Top k.

NEW QUESTION # 23

What is the purpose of Retrieval Augmented Generation (RAG) in text generation?

- A. To retrieve text from an external source and present it without any modifications
- B. To generate text based only on the model's internal knowledge without external data
- C. To generate text using extra information obtained from an external data source
- D. To store text in an external database without using it for generation

Answer: C

Explanation:

Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) combines retrieval mechanisms with text generation, allowing models to pull external knowledge before generating responses.

How RAG Works:

The model retrieves relevant documents from an external database.

Uses this retrieved information to generate factually grounded responses.

Reduces hallucinations, improving accuracy and context relevance.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

(A) is incorrect because RAG modifies the retrieved text by integrating it into a generated response.

(B) is incorrect because RAG retrieves and uses data, not just stores it.

(C) is incorrect because RAG relies on external knowledge, whereas LLMs alone use internal pre-trained knowledge.

□ Oracle Generative AI Reference:

Oracle AI applies RAG techniques to improve enterprise AI applications, enhancing fact-based text generation.
