Scrum Professional Scrum Product Owner II Sample Questions (Q36-Q41):

NEW QUESTION # 36

The primary accountability of a Product Owner is:
(choose the best answer)

- A. Managing the Product Backlog.
- B. Maximizing the value of the work that the Scrum Team delivers.
- C. Interfacing between the Developers and the customers.
- D. Writing User Stories that the Scrum Team can fully understand.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The primary accountability of a Product Owner within the Scrum framework is to maximize the value of the work that the Scrum Team delivers. This involves managing the Product Backlog, but the overarching responsibility is ensuring that the team's efforts translate into value.

NEW QUESTION # 37

The Developers inform the Product Owner during the Sprint that they are not likely to complete everything they forecasted. What would you expect a Product Owner to do?
(choose the best answer)

- A. Change the Sprint Goal to match what the Developers can deliver.
- B. Inform management that more resources are needed.
- C. End the Sprint, since the goal cannot be achieved.
- D. Skip Product Backlog refinement activities.
- E. Reduce the scope of the Sprint, if possible, to still meet the Sprint Goal.

Answer: E

Explanation:

According to the Professional Scrum Product Owner II certification guide¹, the Product Owner is accountable for maximizing the value of the product resulting from the work of the Scrum Team. This means that the Product Owner should collaborate with the Developers and the Scrum Master to find the best way to deliver value in the current Sprint, even if the initial forecast is not met. The Product Owner should not change or abandon the Sprint Goal, as it is a commitment made by the Scrum Team during Sprint Planning.

The Product Owner should also not skip Product Backlog refinement activities, as they are essential for preparing the Product Backlog for future Sprints. The Product Owner should not end the Sprint prematurely, as it may cause more disruption and waste than delivering a potentially releasable Increment. The Product Owner should not inform management that more resources are needed, as it may imply that the Scrum Team is not self-organizing and cross-functional. The Product Owner should respect the Developers' autonomy and professionalism and support them in finding the best solution to the problem. Therefore, the best answer is to reduce the scope of the Sprint, if possible, to still meet the Sprint Goal. This means that the Product Owner and the Developers should negotiate the scope of the Sprint Backlog within the Sprint, removing or adding Product Backlog items that are aligned with the Sprint Goal and the value delivery. NEW QUESTION # 39

- A. Add component team Product Owners
- B. All of the above
- C. Assign sub-Product Owners to each Scrum Team
- D. Enlist the Program Management Office to help coordinate work
- E. Communicate a clear Product Goal and delegate some activities to the Developers.

Answer: E

NEW QUESTION # 40

The timebox for the Sprint Review is:
(choose the best answer)

- A. 15 minutes.
- B. At the end of every Sprint.
- C. 4 hours for a 4-week Sprint. Usually shorter for shorter Sprints.
- D. Any length of time needed.

Answer: C

Explanation:

D is correct because the timebox for the Sprint Review is four hours or less for a one-month Sprint, and usually shorter for shorter Sprints¹. The Sprint Review is an event where the Scrum Team and the stakeholders inspect the outcome of the Sprint and collaborate on what to do next¹. A is incorrect because the Sprint Review is not an open-ended event, but a timeboxed one that respects the attendees' time and ensures productivity². B is incorrect because the Sprint Review is not a point in time, but a timeboxed event that has a specific purpose and agenda¹. C is incorrect because the Sprint Review is not the same as the Daily Scrum, which is a 15-minute event for the Developers to synchronize their work¹.
