Esri Enterprise Administration Professional 2201 Sample Questions (Q58-Q63):

NEW QUESTION # 58

ArcGIS Server is installed with its Web Adaptor on the same server. The configuration is as follows:

- * ArcGIS Server is federated with Portal for ArcGIS
- * Portal is set up to use Integrated Windows Authentication
- * The environment was set up using a domain certificate
- * The attempted login account is a Windows account with admin privileges A GIS administrator tries to connect to ArcGIS Server Manager through ArcGIS Web Adaptor but the connection fails. Why did the connection fail?

- A. The connection must be made with an internal admin account and not a Windows account
- B. The certificate must come from a valid Certificate Authority and not a Domain Certificate Authority
- C. The Web Adaptor was not set to allow administrative access to the server

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 59

An organization recently upgraded Portal for ArcGIS. The organization must reduce the number of named users to the maximum allowed by the authorization file and delete members in bulk.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Use command line utilities
- B. Batch delete users with ArcPy
- C. Delete users using the Member tab

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 60

An ArcGIS Pro user receives the following error when trying to publish to ArcGIS Enterprise:

"Unable to publish to ArcGIS Server, error 001369: failed to create service" The ArcGIS Server logs reveal:

- * Failed to create service
- * Internal server error
- * Unable to instantiate class for XML schema type
- * Invalid XML registry file
- * 390 ArcSOC processes running
- * Server uses only half of available RAM

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Use more dedicated instances instead of shared
- B. Scale up the ArcGIS Server machine resources
- C. Increase the non-interactive desktop heap size

Answer: C

Explanation:

This issue is consistent with desktop heap exhaustion, especially when a high number of ArcSOC processes (e.g., 390) are running on Windows. Desktop heap is a limited memory resource used for GUI and system object management. When it runs out, services can fail to start and produce XML-related errors.

Increasing the non-interactive desktop heap size in the Windows registry resolves this.

From Esri documentation:

"If the Windows desktop heap size is too low, ArcGIS Server may be unable to create new processes (ArcSOC), causing service failures and related internal server errors."

* Option B is a generic fix and won't address the specific heap exhaustion issue.

* Option C doesn't help if the root issue is OS-level heap size limits.

NEW QUESTION # 61

An organization is configuring ArcGIS Enterprise. They want to enable a single sign-on experience for users using their existing SAML identity provider.

What action should the organization perform?

- A. Configure ArcGIS Web Adaptor to use Integrated Windows Authentication
- B. Set up Lightweight Directory Access Protocol with portal-tier authentication
- C. Register the identity provider as a web-tier authenticator
- D. Register the portal's service provider metadata with the identity provider

Answer: D

Explanation:

To enable SAML-based SSO, the ArcGIS Enterprise portal acts as the Service Provider (SP). To link it to an Identity Provider (IdP), you must register the portal's SP metadata with the IdP and configure the portal to trust it.

From Esri's documentation:

"To complete SAML configuration, register the portal's SAML service provider metadata with your organization's identity provider, then configure the portal with the IdP metadata."

* Option A is for IWA (Kerberos), not SAML.

* Option C refers to LDAP but doesn't configure SAML or SSO.

* Option D is not a valid standalone action for SAML integration.

NEW QUESTION # 62

A GIS administrator must share an imagery service with another ArcGIS Enterprise. The administrator sets up a distributed collaboration with the other ArcGIS Enterprise and shares the service as a reference. The users in the other organization keep being prompted for credentials.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Save viewer credentials in the collaboration
- B. Set the collaboration workspace to send and receive
- C. Configure the service with anonymous access
- D. Share the image service as a copy

Answer: A

Explanation:

When sharing a referenced service through a distributed collaboration, users accessing the service from the guest organization need valid credentials unless credentials are stored with the item. To prevent repeated credential prompts, the administrator should save credentials with the item when it is shared, particularly for read-only access like viewing imagery.

From the ArcGIS Enterprise documentation on collaborations:

"When sharing services as references across ArcGIS Enterprise organizations, credentials must be stored with the item to ensure seamless access unless the service is public."

* Option A (saving as a copy) is an alternative, but it's not what was asked for and might not be ideal for large imagery.

* Option C (workspace direction) affects sync behavior, not access control.

* Option D would only work if the service is made public, which often isn't acceptable for internal data.
