AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist Sample Questions (Q197-Q202):

NEW QUESTION # 197
During the needs analysis stage, it is MOST IMPORTANT to determine the client's

- A. mission statement.
- B. application.
- C. budget.
- D. installation time frame.

Answer: B

Explanation:
During the needs analysis stage, understanding the client's application is critical, as it defines how the AV system will be used. This information guides the design to ensure the system meets the functional requirements for the specific use case, such as conferencing, presentations, or entertainment.
CTS Technology Specialist ReferenceThe CTS guidelines on needs analysis emphasize determining the application as a foundation for tailoring the AV solution to fit client-specific operational needs and goals.

NEW QUESTION # 198
What would be the BEST way to verify proper performance of a CAT cable fitted with a new termination?

- A. connect the cable to a reference unit to check against it
- B. use a multimeter to test if the pins have a connection
- C. connect the source and sync, then verify there is a picture
- D. use a cable tester and run a protocol

Answer: D

Explanation:
Using a cable tester and running a protocol is the best way to verify the proper performance of a CAT cable with a new termination. Cable testers can check for continuity, wiring configuration, signal quality, and performance standards compliance (e.g., Cat 5e, Cat 6). They can detect faults such as open circuits, short circuits, and incorrect wiring, ensuring the cable is terminated correctly and capable of supporting the desired network speeds and protocols.

NEW QUESTION # 199
If the nominal light output of a projector was measured at 5000 ANSI lumens using an f/1.4 lens, what would happen if the lens was changed to an f/2.8 large zoom?

- A. The projected image will be darker
- B. The projected image will be brighter
- C. The screen will need to be changed to 1:1 gain
- D. The screen will need to be changed to a high contrast screen

Answer: A

Explanation:
The f-number (aperture) of a lens determines how much light passes through. An f/2.8 lens allows less light than an f/1.4 lens, resulting in a dimmer image. Specifically, each full f-stop reduces the light by a factor of four. So switching from f/1.4 to f/2.8 cuts the light significantly.
"The larger the f-number, the smaller the lens opening and the less light is transmitted, which reduces image brightness."

NEW QUESTION # 200
During a site survey of a facility to be upgraded or modernized, it is important to check wireless microphones that may be redeployed to ensure

- A. polar patterns will not clash with new fabric treatments.

- B. antenna design will not interfere with HDBaseT signal distribution system.
- C. microphones are operating on acceptable radio frequencies.
- D. battery types conform to environmental concerns.

Answer: C

Explanation:
When upgrading or modernizing a facility, it is essential to check that wireless microphones are operating on acceptable radio frequencies. This ensures compliance with local regulations and avoids interference with other wireless devices. The radio frequency spectrum can change over time, and certain frequencies may be reallocated or restricted, making it necessary to verify that existing equipment is still compliant and operational within the allowable frequency bands.

NEW QUESTION # 201

Which of these symbols is generally used to represent a network?

- A. C
- B. B
- C. A
- D. D

Answer: A

Explanation:
The cloud symbol (Option C) is commonly used to represent a network, particularly in diagrams to signify a network or cloud-based resources. This symbol has become a universal representation of network connections and internet-based services.
CTS Technology Specialist Reference
The CTS materials include standard AV and IT symbols, where the cloud symbol is used to denote networks and internet connections, aiding in clear communication within technical diagrams.
