ISACA Certified Information Systems Auditor Sample Questions (Q290-Q295):

NEW QUESTION # 290

During an ongoing audit, management requests a briefing on the findings to date. Which of the following is the IS auditor's BEST course of action?

- A. Review working papers with the auditee.
- B. Present observations for discussion only.
- C. Request the auditee provide management responses.
- D. Request management wait until a final report is ready for discussion.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

The IS auditor's best course of action in this situation is to present observations for discussion only.

Observations are factual statements or findings that are based on the audit evidence collected and analyzed during the audit.

Observations can be presented to management for discussion and feedback, but they should not be considered as final conclusions or recommendations until the audit is completed and the audit report is issued. The other options are not appropriate for presenting the findings to date, as they may compromise the audit quality or integrity. Reviewing working papers with the auditee is not advisable, as working papers are confidential documents that contain the auditor's notes, calculations, and opinions that may not be relevant or accurate for management's review. Requesting the auditee provide management responses is premature, as management responses should be obtained after the audit report is issued and the audit findings and recommendations are finalized. Requesting management wait until a final report is ready for discussion is impractical, as management may have a legitimate interest or need to know the audit progress and results as soon as possible. NEW QUESTION # 291

Which of the following is the BEST way for management to ensure the effectiveness of the cybersecurity incident response process?

- A. Periodic tabletop exercises involving key stakeholders
- B. Periodic reporting of cybersecurity incidents to key stakeholders
- C. Periodic update of incident response process documentation
- D. Periodic cybersecurity training for staff involved in incident response

Answer: A

Explanation:

Tabletop exercises are a type of simulation used to test an organization's incident response plan¹². They involve key stakeholders in a hypothetical scenario to see how they would respond¹². This allows management to assess the effectiveness of the incident response process and identify areas for improvement¹². Regularly conducting these exercises ensures that the organization is prepared for a real incident and that the incident response process remains effective over time¹².

NEW QUESTION # 292

Which of the following should concern an IS auditor when reviewing security in a client- server environment?

- A. Preventing unauthorized access using a diskless workstation
- B. Disabling floppy drives on the users' machines
- C. The ability of users to access and modify the database directly
- D. Protecting data using an encryption technique

Answer: C

Explanation:

Section: Protection of Information Assets

Explanation:

For the purpose of data security in a client-server environment, an IS auditor should be concerned with the user's ability to access and modify a database directly. This could affect the integrity of the data in the database. Data protected by encryption aid in securing the data. Diskless workstations prevent copying of data into local disks and thus help to maintain the integrity and confidentiality of data. Disabling floppy drives is a physical access control, which helps to maintain the confidentiality of data by preventing it from being copied onto a disk.

NEW QUESTION # 293

Which of the following needs be established FIRST in order to categorize data properly?

- A. A data asset protection standard
- B. A data protection policy
- C. A data asset inventory
- D. A data classification framework

Answer: D

Explanation:

Section: Protection of Information Assets
