Network Appliance NetApp Certified AI Expert Exam Sample Questions (Q99-Q104):

NEW QUESTION # 99

Which of the following are typical requirements for inferencing in AI models? (Choose two)

- A. Pre-trained models
- B. Extensive training data
- C. Cloud-based inference only
- D. Loading the model into memory

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 100

A data science team reports that their Jupyter notebook pod, which was previously working, is now failing to start. The pod's status is 'CrashLoopBackOff'. An MLOps engineer investigates and finds that the pod's PersistentVolumeClaim (PVC) is bound, but the pod logs show a "Permission denied" error when trying to write to its '/data' mount point.

The engineer checks the Trident backend configuration associated with the pod's StorageClass:

apiVersion: trident.netapp.io/v1
```

```
kind: TridentBackendConfig

```
metadata:
```

```
name: ontap-nas-eco
```

```
spec:
```

version: 1
```

```
storageDriverName: ontap-nas

```
managementLIF: 10.10.20.5

```
dataLIF: 10.10.20.10

```
svm: svm-prod-ds
```

exportPolicy: read-only-policy

What is the most likely cause of the "Permission denied" error?

- A. The Kubernetes pod has an invalid 'securityContext' that prevents it from writing to any volume.
- B. The Trident backend is configured to use an export policy ('read-only-policy') that does not grant write permissions to the Kubernetes nodes.
- C. The 'storageDriverName' should be 'ontap-san' for all AI workloads.
- D. The 'dataLIF' is configured incorrectly and is unreachable from the Kubernetes nodes.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 101

An architect is designing a data pipeline for a predictive AI model that will forecast retail sales.

The pipeline must be robust, version-controlled, and efficient.

The proposed data flow is as follows:

1. Ingest: Raw sales data is copied daily from multiple point-of-sale (POS) systems to a central staging area on an on-premises ONTAP cluster.
2. Prepare: The raw data is messy. A data engineering team needs a clean, isolated, and writable copy of the latest daily data to perform cleansing and feature engineering tasks without impacting the original raw data.
3. Train: Once prepared, the cleansed dataset is used to retrain the predictive model on a GPU cluster. This step must be repeatable with the exact same dataset for compliance.
4. Deploy: The newly trained model is pushed to production inference servers.

Which combination of NetApp technologies best supports this entire predictive AI lifecycle?

(Select all that apply.)

- A. Use NetApp FlexClone to create an instantaneous, space-efficient, writable copy of the daily raw data for the data preparation stage.
- B. Use BlueXP backup and recovery to perform the initial data ingest from the POS systems.
- C. Use NetApp Snapshots on the prepared dataset volume just before training to create an immutable, point-in-time version for compliance and reproducibility.

- D. Use a RAG architecture for the sales forecasting model.
- E. Use NetApp StorageGRID as the primary storage for the high-performance training stage.
- F. Use NetApp XCP to efficiently aggregate the raw sales data from POS systems into the central staging area.

Answer: A,C,F

NEW QUESTION # 102

Which AI technology is used to generate new, never-before-seen content such as images or text?

- A. Reinforcement AI
- B. Supervised AI
- C. Generative AI
- D. Predictive AI

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 103

A university is building a shared AI research platform. They have two primary requirements:

1. Performance: A "hot" research area for active model training and development that requires the absolute lowest latency and highest throughput to support multiple, simultaneous GPU-intensive jobs.

The data in this area is around 50 TB.

2. Capacity & Cost: A "cold" data lake to store over 5 PB of raw, unstructured experimental data that is infrequently accessed but must be retained for compliance and future use. This tier must be as cost-effective as possible.

Which combination of NetApp hardware and technologies should an architect select to build a complete, optimized, and cost-effective solution? (Select all that apply.)

- A. Use a NetApp All-SAN Array (ASA) system for the 50 TB high-performance "hot" research area.
- B. Enable GPUDirect Storage on the ASA system to provide the lowest latency data path to the GPUs.
- C. Use a standard 10GbE network for all connectivity to reduce costs.
- D. Implement NetApp FabricPool to automatically tier inactive data from the ASA system to the StorageGRID data lake.
- E. Use NetApp E-Series systems for both the hot tier and the cold data lake to simplify management.
- F. Use NetApp StorageGRID to build the 5 PB cost-effective data lake.

Answer: A,B,D,F
