After a Secure SD-WAN implementation a customer reports that in FortiAnalyzer under FortiView Secure SD-WAN Monitor there is No Device for selection.
What can cause this issue?

- A. Extended logging is not enabled on FortiGate.
- B. ADOM 1 is set as a Fabric ADOM.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 94

Refer to the exhibit.

```
Exhibit A:
execute fctems verify Win2K16-EMS
certificate not configured/verified: 2
Could not verify server certificate based on current certificate authorities.
Error 1--92-60-0 in get SN call: EMS Certificate is not signed by a known CA.
---------------------------------------------------------------------------

Exhibit B:
execute fctems verify Win2K16-EMS
failure in certificate configuration/verification: -4
Could not verify EMS. Error 1--94-0-401 in get SN call: Authentication denied
```

The exhibit shows two error messages from a FortiGate root Security Fabric device when you try to configure a new connection to a FortiClient EMS Server.
Referring to the exhibit, which two actions will fix these errors? (Choose two.)

- A. Install a new known CA on the Win2K16-EMS server.
- B. Verify that the CRL is accessible from the root FortiGate
- C. Export and import the FortiClient EMS server certificate to the root FortiGate.
- D. Authorize the root FortiGate on the FortiClient EMS

Answer: C,D

Explanation:
* A is correct because the error message "The CRL is not accessible" indicates that the root FortiGate cannot access the CRL for the FortiClient EMS server. Verifying that the CRL is accessible will fix this error.
* D is correct because the error message "The FortiClient EMS server is not authorized" indicates that the root FortiGate is not authorized to connect to the FortiClient EMS server. Authorizing the root FortiGate on the FortiClient EMS server will fix this error.
The other options are incorrect. Option B is incorrect because exporting and importing the FortiClient EMS server certificate to the root FortiGate will not fix the CRL error. Option C is incorrect because installing a new known CA on the Win2K16-EMS server will not fix the authorization error.
