Salesforce Certified Advanced Administrator Sample Questions (Q87-Q92):

NEW QUESTION # 87

The security department at AW Computing wants to prevent users from exporting more data than they need. Included in this request is limiting records containing sensitive information, such as bank accounts and Personal Identifiable Information (PII).

Which feature should an administrator recommend to help limit what data is exported?

- A. Salesforce Shield
- B. Muted Permission Sets
- C. Salesforce Platform Encryption
- D. Export Data Settings

Answer: D

Explanation:

To limit data exports, especially for sensitive information, Export Data Settings in Salesforce are specifically designed to control user access to export data. These settings allow administrators to restrict who can export data from Salesforce, helping to protect sensitive information like bank accounts and Personal Identifiable Information (PII).

* Export Data Settings:

* Salesforce provides administrators with the ability to manage permissions related to data export functions. This includes restricting access to tools like Data Export, Data Loader, and Report Exports.

* By limiting these permissions, administrators can control which users are allowed to export data, thereby reducing the risk of sensitive data, such as PII, being exported by unauthorized individuals.

* This is particularly useful for ensuring that only designated roles or users can export data, as per the organization's data security policies.

* Specific Use Case for Sensitive Information:

* In a scenario where the focus is on preventing unnecessary access to sensitive information, Export Data Settings directly target the ability to export data and can be customized based on the security needs of the organization.

* By disabling or limiting export permissions for specific profiles or roles, AW Computing can better manage the risk associated with handling sensitive data.

Incorrect options:

* Salesforce Platform Encryption: While it protects sensitive data at rest by encrypting fields and files, it does not control export capabilities or prevent users from exporting data.

* Salesforce Shield: This suite includes event monitoring, encryption, and audit trail features, which enhance security but do not specifically limit export permissions.

* Muted Permission Sets: These are used to restrict permissions in permission set groups but are not designed to manage or limit data export capabilities directly.

In conclusion, Export Data Settings offer the most precise control over data export capabilities in Salesforce, making it the best solution to meet the security department's requirement.

- A. The Salesforce, id field is required and was missing from the file.

This means that you can use Data Import Wizard to update existing campaign members with new or modified information, but you cannot use it to create new campaign members from a spreadsheet. NEW QUESTION # 91

An administrator at Cloud Kicks has been asked to reduce the file size of full data exports in order to have quicker exports.

Which three recommendations should the administrator make?

Choose 3 answers

- A. Request a backup file every 5 days.
- B. Reduce the amount of objects per export.
- C. Deselect 'Include images, documents, and attachments' in the export.
- D. Keep deleted record counts to a minimum.
- E. Unselect the recycle bin in the object export option.

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:

Three recommendations that the administrator can make to reduce the file size of full data exports are:

* Reduce the amount of objects per export. By selecting only the objects that are necessary for the backup and excluding the ones that are not, you can reduce the number of files and records that are exported and decrease the file size.

* Deselect 'Include images, documents, and attachments' in the export. By unchecking this option, you can exclude the files that are stored in Salesforce as images, documents, or attachments from the export.

These files can take up a lot of space and increase the file size significantly.

* Keep deleted record counts to a minimum. By emptying the recycle bin regularly or using hard delete options, you can reduce the number of deleted records that are included in the export. Deleted records are still counted as part of the export limit and can increase the file size.

The other two options are incorrect because:

* Requesting a backup file every 5 days does not reduce the file size of each export. It only increases the frequency of exports and may cause more storage issues.

* Unselecting the recycle bin in the object export option does not reduce the file size of full data exports.

It only applies to individual object exports and not to weekly or monthly exports.
