How do you ensure the customer segment is always up to date using features of synced record types?

- A. Whenever you create a new record in your process model, you calculate the customer segment in a Script-Task and update the record before storing it.
- B. You add a new combined record field, link it with the business rule (expression rule), and define the update frequency on the combined field.
- C. Add a custom record field to the customer record type that evaluates the three given attributes to define the customer segment.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 102

How can you prevent users from accessing Tempo?

- A. Remove the users from the Tempo Users system group.
- B. Change the default User Start Page.
- C. Ensure the user is in the Application Users group, which by default does not have access to Tempo.

Answer: A

Explanation:

To prevent users from accessing Tempo, you should remove them from the Tempo Users system group. This group controls access to the Tempo interface in Appian. By removing users from this group, they will no longer have the necessary permissions to access Tempo features and content.

NEW QUESTION # 103

You select the "Generate groups and folders to secure and organize objects" option while creating a new application, Acme, with the prefix ACM.

By default, which two groups are generated by Appian? (Choose two.)

- A. ACM Users
- B. ACM Viewers
- C. ACM Administrators
- D. ACM Designers

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

When creating a new application in Appian and opting to generate groups and folders for organization and security, Appian automatically creates specific groups to facilitate application development and management. The default groups include "Administrators" and "Designers" with the application prefix, in this case, ACM. The ACM Administrators group is intended for users who will have full control over the application, including configuration and deployment aspects. The ACM Designers group is designated for users primarily involved in the design and development of the application, granting them necessary permissions to create and modify application components without full administrative privileges.

NEW QUESTION # 104

Review the following code snippet:

index({"a", "b", "c"}, 1, "x")

Which value is returned?

- A. a
- B. b
- C. c
- D. x

Answer: D

Explanation:

The `index()` function in Appian is used to replace an element at a specified index in a list. In the code snippet `index({"a", "b", "c"}, 1, "x")`, the function is called to replace the element at index 1 of the list `{"a", "b", "c"}` with the string `"x"`. Since Appian lists are 1-indexed, this means that the first element `"a"` will be replaced by `"x"`. However, since the function is used to modify a list and not to return a value, if this function is used as is without being part of a larger expression that outputs the list, it would not return any of the listed values.
