NEW QUESTION # 37

You are recording actions for a custom process step in a test automate

When do you press the "Read" button on the recording panel? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. To capture text in a message screen that can be used for data binding later.
- B. To capture a static label on the screen that should be checked during test execution.
- C. To capture a value in a text field that should be stored as a variable.
- D. To capture an error message on the screen that can be used later.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

When you are recording actions for a custom process step in a test automate, you press the "Read" button on the recording panel in the following situations:

* To capture a value in a text field that should be stored as a variable. This allows you to reuse the value in other steps or test cases, or to compare it with an expected value¹.

* To capture text in a message screen that can be used for data binding later. This allows you to extract data from the message screen and use it as an input for another step or test case².

You do not press the "Read" button to capture an error message or a static label on the screen, as these are not values that need to be stored or used later. Instead, you can use the "Check" button to verify that the error message or the label is displayed as expected³.

NEW QUESTION # 39

Where is the initial list of known integrations documented?

- A. In SAP Cloud ALM
- B. In the Business Driven Configuration Questionnaire
- C. In the Fit-to-Standard Workshops
- D. In the Digital Discovery Assessment

Answer: B

Explanation:

The initial list of known integrations is documented in the Business Driven Configuration Questionnaire (BDCQ). The BDCQ is a tool that helps you to capture the business requirements and scope of your SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition project. It contains a series of questions that cover different aspects of your business processes, such as organizational structure, master data, configuration settings, and integration scenarios. The BDCQ also provides guidance on the best practices and recommendations for your project¹².

One of the sections in the BDCQ is the Integration section, where you can document the initial list of known integrations that are relevant for your project. The Integration section contains questions about the integration scenarios that you want to enable, such as cross-system process integration, data replication, data migration, and third-party integration. The Integration section also provides information on the available integration options, such as SAP Cloud Platform Integration, SAP API Business Hub, and SAP Cloud ALM¹³.

The initial list of known integrations is important for your project, as it helps you to identify the integration requirements, dependencies, and risks that need to be considered in the project planning and execution. The initial list of known integrations also helps you to select the appropriate integration tools and methods, and to align the integration scope with the SAP S/4HANA Cloud

Public Edition roadmap and release cycles13.

Therefore, the correct answer is A, as the initial list of known integrations is documented in the BDCQ.
