NEW QUESTION # 67

Which Class of Fires involves cooking appliances?

- A. Class B
- B. Class C
- C. Class K
- D. Class A

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the EPI Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Preparation Guide, Class K fires involve cooking appliances that use combustible cooking media such as vegetable or animal oils and fats (page 28). Class K fires require special extinguishing agents that can suppress the high-temperature flames and prevent re- ignition. Class K fires are different from Class B fires, which involve flammable liquids such as gasoline, oil, or paint.

NEW QUESTION # 68

Which type of Humidifier is composed of water-filled canister containing electrodes?

- A. Infrared Humidifiers
- B. Steam Canister Humidifier
- C. Ultrasonic Humidifier
- D. Water Canister Humidifier

Answer: B

Explanation:

A steam canister humidifier is a type of humidifier that uses electricity to heat water in a canister containing electrodes. The water conductivity and the water level determine the amount of current and steam production.

The steam canister humidifier is also known as an electrode boiler humidifier or an electrode steam humidifier¹²³.

NEW QUESTION # 69

What is a requirement of an FM200 (HFC-227) installation?

- A. Install the gas containers (tanks) close to the data centre.
- B. It is a high-pressure gas; therefore nozzles must be mounted with two brackets.
- C. Install pre-action sprinklers in the same room as the FM200.
- D. Drainage system under the raised floor.

Answer: B

Explanation:

FM200 (HFC-227) is a clean agent fire suppression system that uses a high-pressure gas to extinguish fires by reducing the oxygen concentration and absorbing the heat. FM200 is stored in cylinders at pressures of up to 42 bar (600 psi) and is released through nozzles into the protected area. Because of the high pressure, the nozzles must be mounted with two brackets to prevent them from moving or breaking during discharge. The brackets must be securely attached to the ceiling or wall and aligned with the nozzle outlet. The nozzle outlet must also be free of any obstructions that could affect the discharge pattern or distribution.

NEW QUESTION # 70

Can Electro Magnetic Fields (EMF) cause data centre failures?

- A. Yes, but only EMF caused by lightning strikes.
- B. No, only power issues will cause data centre failures.
- C. Yes, high levels of EMF can cause data centre failures.
- D. No, only cooling issues will cause data centre failures.

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the EPI Data Centre Training Framework, EMF is a form of electromagnetic interference (EMI) that can disrupt or damage the normal operation of electronic devices, such as servers, network cables, and IT equipment¹. High levels of EMF can be generated by power equipment, cell phones, microwaves, TV and radio signals, etc., and can cause data corruption, data loss, system malfunction, and crashes²³. Therefore, EMF can cause data centre failures and affect the availability, performance, and security of the data centre. To prevent or mitigate EMF, data centres should follow the best practices for data centre design, layout, cabling, grounding, shielding, and testing¹⁴.

NEW QUESTION # 71

What is the most cost-effective way to avoid EMF issues within the Computer room?

- A. Reducing the voltage in the computer room
- B. Create a distance between the EMF source and the ICT equipment / copper network cabling
- C. Install TUV approved shielding material
- D. Reducing the temperature in computer room to 18° C / 64° Fahrenheit

Answer: B

Explanation:

Physical separation is the most cost-effective method to minimize electromagnetic interference. Specialized shielding is more expensive and usually unnecessary if proper separation is maintained.
