Salesforce Certified Platform Data Architect Sample Questions (Q106-Q111):

NEW QUESTION # 106

Universal Containers (UC) has a data model as shown in the image. The Project object has a private sharing model, and it has Roll-Up summary fields to calculate the number of resources assigned to the project, total hours for the project, and the number of work items associated to the project. What should the architect consider, knowing there will be a large amount of time entry records to be loaded regularly from an external system into Salesforce.com?

- A. Load all data using external IDs to link to parent records.
- B. Use triggers to calculate summary values instead of Roll -Up.
- C. Use workflow to calculate summary values instead of Roll -Up.
- D. Load all data after deferring sharing calculations.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Loading all data after deferring sharing calculations can improve the performance and avoid locking issues when loading a large amount of time entry records into Salesforce.com. This is because deferring sharing calculations can temporarily suspend the calculation of sharing rules until all the data is loaded, and then recalculate them in one operation

NEW QUESTION # 107

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) has the following systems:

- Customer master-source of truth for customer information
- Service cloud-customer support
- Marketing cloud-marketing support
- Enterprise data warehouse--business reporting

The customer data is duplicated across all these systems and are not kept in sync. Customers are also complaining that they get repeated marketing emails and have to call into update their information.

NTO is planning to implement master data management (MDM) solution across the enterprise.

Which three data will an MDM tool solve? Choose 3 answer

- A. Data loss and recovery
- B. Data standardization
- C. Data accuracy and quality
- D. Data completeness
- E. Data duplication

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

According to the What is Master Data Management (MDM)? article, some of the data challenges that an MDM tool can solve are data duplication, data accuracy and quality, and data standardization. The article states that "MDM solutions comprise a broad range of data cleansing, transformation, and integration practices. As data sources are added to the system, MDM initiates processes to identify, collect, transform, and repair data. Once the data meets the quality thresholds, schemas and taxonomies are created to help maintain a high-quality master reference." Therefore, an MDM tool can help NTO eliminate data duplication across different systems, improve data accuracy and quality by removing errors and inconsistencies, and standardize data formats and definitions for better integration and analysis.

NEW QUESTION # 108

Universal Containers (UC) needs to move millions of records from an external enterprise resource planning (ERP) system into Salesforce. What should a data architect recommend to be done while using the Bulk API in serial mode instead of parallel mode?

- A. Inserting 1 million orders distributed across a variety of accounts with lock exceptions eliminated and managed.
- B. Inserting 1 million orders distributed across a variety of accounts with potential lock exceptions.
- C. Leveraging a controlled feed load with 10 batches per job.
- D. Placing 20 batches on the queue for upset jobs.

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to this article, inserting 1 million orders distributed across a variety of accounts with potential lock exceptions is a scenario where using the Bulk API in serial mode can help to prevent the lock contention issue that can occur in parallel mode.

NEW QUESTION # 109

Universal Container (UC) stores 10 million rows of inventory data in a cloud database, As part of creating a connected experience in Salesforce, UC would like to this inventory data to Sales Cloud without a import. UC has asked its data architect to determine if Salesforce Connect is needed. Which three considerations should the data architect make when evaluating the need for Salesforce Connect?

- A. You need to expose data via a virtual private connection.
- B. You need to small amounts of external data at any one time.
- C. You want real-time access to the latest data, from other systems.
- D. You have a large amount of data and would like to copy subsets of it into Salesforce.
- E. You have a large amount of data that you don't want to copy into your Salesforce org.

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

The correct answer is A, D, and E. The data architect should consider these three factors when evaluating the need for Salesforce Connect: You want real-time access to the latest data from other systems, you have a large amount of data that you don't want to copy into your Salesforce org, and you need to small amounts of external data at any one time. These factors indicate that Salesforce Connect is a suitable solution for creating a connected experience in Salesforce without importing inventory data from a cloud database. Salesforce Connect allows Salesforce to access external data via OData or custom adapters without storing it in Salesforce, which reduces storage costs and ensures data freshness. Salesforce Connect also supports pagination and caching to optimize performance when accessing small amounts of external data at any one time.

NEW QUESTION # 110

A large automobile manufacturer has decided to use Salesforce as its CRM. It needs to maintain the following dealer types in their CRM:

- Local dealers
- Regional distributor
- State distributor
- Service dealer

The attributes are different for each of the customer types. The CRM users should be allowed to enter only attributes related to the customer types. The processes and business rules for each of the customer types could be different.

How should the different dealers be maintained in Salesforce?

- A. Use Accounts for dealers, and create record types for each of the dealer types.
- B. Create Custom objects for each dealer types and custom fields for dealer attributes.
- C. Create dealers as Accounts, and build custom views for each of the dealer types.
- D. Use Accounts for dealers and custom picklist field for each of the dealer types

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to Trailhead, record types are a feature that allows administrators to create different business processes, page layouts, and picklist values for different types of records within an object. Record types can be used to maintain different dealer types in Salesforce by creating record types for each of the dealer types and assigning them appropriate attributes, processes, and rules. Option A is the correct answer because it suggests using Accounts for dealers, and creating record types for each of the dealer types.
