CompTIA Project+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q357-Q362):

NEW QUESTION # 357

A company needs to have structured cabling installed in one of its buildings. Which of the following would be the best document for the company to use to obtain and compare information on cabling services and costs from various vendors?

- A. RFB
- B. RFP
- C. RFQ
- D. RFI

Answer: B

Explanation:

A request for proposal (RFP) is the best document for the company to use in this scenario, because it is the most detailed and personalized type of request document. An RFP allows the company to specify the project scope, requirements, deliverables, evaluation criteria, and budget for the structured cabling installation, and to solicit proposals from various vendors that can meet those needs. An RFP also enables the company to compare the vendors based on their qualifications, experience, methodology, and pricing, and to select the best one for the project. An RFP is more suitable than an RFB, RFQ, or RFI, because those documents are less comprehensive and more generic, and they do not provide enough information for the company to make an informed decision. ### NEW QUESTION # 358

A PM received feedback from the project sponsor that the resources involved in the project are unsure of their daily activities. Which of the following is the MOST effective step for the PM to take to ensure clarity within the team?

- A. Have the project sponsor meet with the team.
- B. Resend the scope of work to the team.
- C. Create a list of tasks and share it with the team.
- D. Review the Gantt chart weekly with the team.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Reviewing the Gantt chart weekly with the team would be the most effective step for the project manager to take to ensure clarity within the team after receiving feedback from the project sponsor that the resources involved in the project are unsure of their daily activities. A Gantt chart is a graphical tool that shows the schedule of a project, including the start and end dates, durations, dependencies, milestones, and progress of each task or activity. Reviewing the Gantt chart weekly with the team can help to clarify their roles and responsibilities, assign tasks and deadlines, track and report their status and performance, identify and resolve any issues or risks, and keep them aligned and engaged with the project goals. ### NEW QUESTION # 359

Which of the following best describes the reason a waterfall approach would be used for a project?

- A. The executive team is looking to review the product only once after the product is finalized.
- B. The executive team wants to reduce the budget for development.
- C. The executive team still has no clear requirements for the product.
- D. The executive team is expecting constant delivery of components.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Waterfall methodology is a linear and sequential approach to project management where each phase must be completed before the next begins. It is best suited for projects with well-defined requirements and where the executive team prefers to review the product only after its completion.

As per the CompTIA Project+ PK0-005 exam objectives, under Domain 1.2: Compare and contrast Agile vs. Waterfall concepts, understanding the criteria for selecting a method, including the preference for a single final review in Waterfall, is crucial.

NEW QUESTION # 360

A project sponsor would like to develop a minimum viable product, but the requirements are not well defined. Which of the following should the project sponsor use?

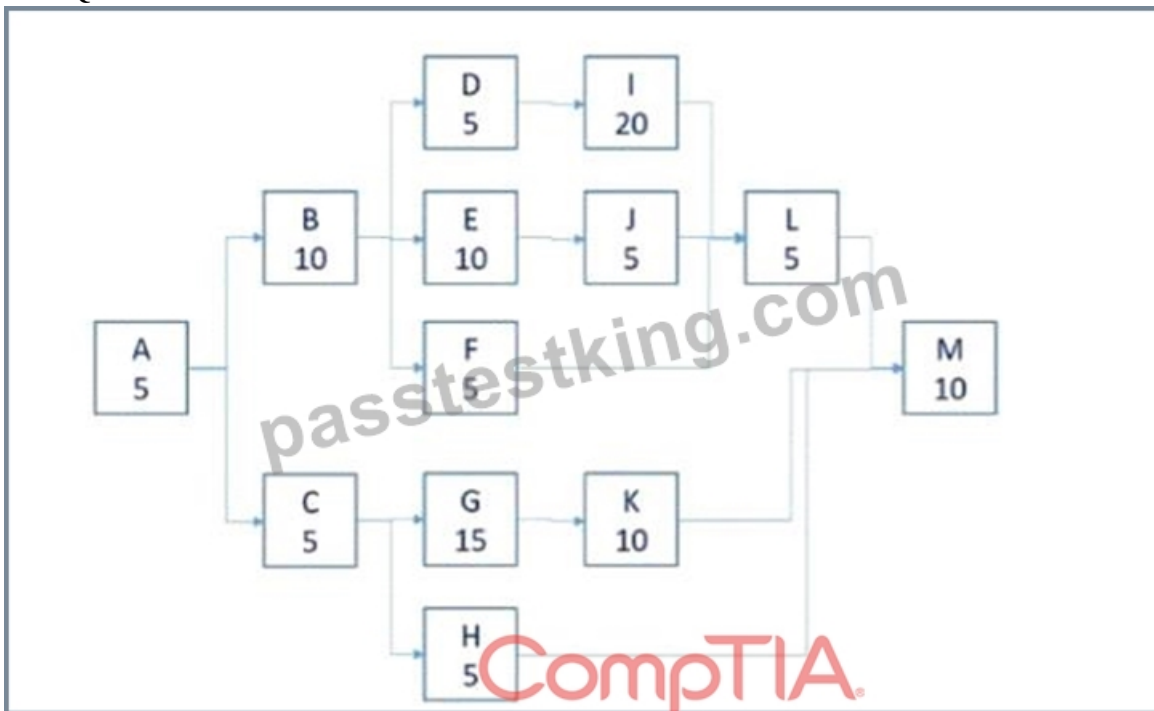

- A. Waterfall
- B. Rational Unified Process
- C. Agile
- D. DevOps

Answer: C

Explanation:

Agile is a methodology that emphasizes iterative and incremental development, customer collaboration, and responsiveness to change. Agile is suitable for developing a minimum viable product (MVP), which is a version of a product with just enough features to be usable by early customers who can then provide feedback for future product development. Agile allows the project sponsor to deliver an MVP quickly and test it with real users, and then adapt the product based on the feedback and changing requirements. Agile also reduces the risk of wasting time and resources on a product that does not meet the customer's needs or expectations<sup>123</sup>.

NEW QUESTION # 361

Given the following network diagram:

Which of the following is the critical path?

- A. A-B-E-J-L-M
- B. A-C-G-K-M
- C. A-B-F-L-M
- D. A-B-D-I-L-M

Answer: B

Explanation:

The critical path is the sequence of tasks that determines the minimum project duration. It is the longest path through the network diagram and has the least amount of slack or float. Based on the provided network diagram, the critical path is A-C-G-K-M, which has the longest total duration when adding up the individual task durations. References = The concept of the critical path is covered in the CompTIA Project+ Certification Study Guide<sup>1</sup>. For more detailed information on how to calculate and identify the critical path in project management, you can refer to the study guide and other project management resources2.
