The Certified Wireless Analysis Professional (CWAP-405) certification is a valuable credential that every CWNP professional should earn it. The CWAP-405 certification exam offers a great opportunity for beginners and experienced professionals to demonstrate their expertise. With the Certified Wireless Analysis Professional (CWAP-405) certification exam everyone can upgrade their skills and knowledge. There are other several benefits that the CWNP CWAP-405 exam holders can achieve after the success of the Certified Wireless Analysis Professional (CWAP-405) certification exam.

CWNP Certified Wireless Analysis Professional Sample Questions (Q13-Q18):

NEW QUESTION # 13

Given a protocol analyzer can decrypt WPA2-PSK data packets providing the PSK and SSID are configured in the analyzer software.

When performing packet capture (in a non-FT environment) which frames are required in order for PSK frame decryption to be possible?

- A. Authentication
- B. Probe Response
- C. Reassociation
- D. 4-Way Handshake

Answer: D

Explanation:

To decrypt WPA2-PSK data frames, the analyzer must capture the complete 4-Way Handshake because it contains the nonces and keying material used to derive the Pairwise Transient Key.

The PSK and SSID alone are insufficient; the handshake exchange is required to compute the encryption keys that protect subsequent data frames.

NEW QUESTION # 14

Which is not a valid interpretation for one of the 4 address fields in the MAC header?

- A. Sender address
- B. Transmitter address
- C. Receiver address
- D. Source address

Answer: A

Explanation:

The 802.11 MAC header can contain up to four addresses: source address (SA), transmitter address (TA), receiver address (RA), and destination address (DA). "Sender address" is not a defined field in the standard, making it invalid.

NEW QUESTION # 15

What interframe space would be expected between a CTS and a Data frame?

- A. SIFS
- B. PIFS
- C. DIFS
- D. AIFS

Answer: A

Explanation:

The interframe space that would be expected between a CTS (Clear to Send) and a Data frame is SIFS (Short Interframe Space). A SIFS is the shortest interframe space that is used for high-priority transmissions, such as ACKs (Acknowledgements), CTSs, or data frames that are part of a fragmentation or aggregation process. A SIFS is a fixed value that depends on the PHY type and channel width. A CTS and a Data frame are part of a virtual carrier sense mechanism called RTS/CTS (Request to Send/Clear to Send), which is used to avoid collisions and hidden node problems in wireless transmissions. When a STA (station) wants to send a data frame, it first sends an RTS frame to the intended receiver, indicating the duration of the transmission. The receiver then responds with a CTS frame, also indicating the duration of the transmission. The other STAs in the vicinity hear either the RTS or the CTS frame and update their NAV (Network Allocation Vector) timers accordingly, deferring their access to the medium until the transmission is over. The sender then sends the data frame after waiting for a SIFS, followed by an ACK frame from the receiver after another SIFS. The other options are not correct, as they are not used between a CTS and a Data frame. A PIFS (PCF Interframe Space) is used for medium access by the PCF (Point Coordination Function), which is an optional and rarely implemented polling-based mechanism that provides contention-free service for time-sensitive traffic. An AIFS (Arbitration Interframe Space) is used for medium access by different ACs (Access Categories), which are logical queues that correspond to different QoS (Quality of Service) levels for different types of traffic. An AIFS is a variable interframe space that depends on the AIFSN (Arbitration Interframe Space Number) value of each AC. A DIFS (Distributed Interframe Space) is used for medium access by the DCF (Distributed Coordination Function), which is the default and mandatory contention-based mechanism that provides best-effort service for normal traffic. NEW QUESTION # 16

Which statement is true regarding the Association Identifier (AID) used in IEEE 802.11 WLANs?

- A. The AID has a maximum value of 2048, and is used to uniquely identify a wireless client station associated with an access point.
- B. The AID has a maximum value of 2007, and resides in the duration/ID field of a PS-Poll frame.
- C. The client station is assigned an AID value in the 802.11 authentication response frame.
- D. The AID field is present only in Beacons frames.
- E. The AID is used by the access point in EDCA mode to reduce duplicate transmissions when sending multicasts.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 17

You are tasked with describing the various frames used in 802.11 communications.

What frame is used for spectrum management, fast BSS transition and some other actions taken within a BSA?

- A. BlockAck
- B. CTS
- C. Action
- D. PS Poll

Answer: C
