NEW QUESTION # 26

A security manager performing a site survey using crime prevention through environmental design (CPTED) techniques would MOST likely recommend:

- A. Constructing a brick wall as a barrier
- B. Planting trees for boundary control
- C. Installing video cameras for increased surveillance
- D. Installing revolving doors for entry control

Answer: C

Explanation:

Although CPTED focuses heavily on natural surveillance, incorporating mechanical or electronic means such as video cameras enhances visibility and monitoring. Surveillance deters criminal behavior and increases the chance of detection.

B (Brick wall) may obstruct visibility.

C (Planting trees) could obscure lines of sight.

D (Revolving doors) relate more to access control than CPTED surveillance goals.

NEW QUESTION # 27

The operating environment of Enterprise Security Risk Management (ESRM) includes the:

- A. Physical environment
- B. Digital environment
- C. Legal environment
- D. Geo-political environment

Answer: D

Explanation:

Enterprise Security Risk Management (ESRM) considers a variety of operating environments that influence organizational risk, including geopolitical, economic, legal, and technological factors. The geopolitical environment-such as regional instability, regulatory changes, and political threats-plays a critical role in shaping security strategy and risk prioritization.

A (Legal), B (Digital), and C (Physical) are important, but they are all subsets of the broader geopolitical and global risk context within ESRM.

NEW QUESTION # 28

When conducting a risk analysis, the BEST way to state the impact of an adverse event or circumstance is to express it as:

- A. Downtime estimate
- B. Cost-benefit ratio
- C. Frequency-of-occurrence graph
- D. Monetary value

Answer: D

Explanation:

The best way to express the impact of a risk in business terms is through monetary value. This allows decision-makers to understand the financial consequences of threats and justify investments in controls or mitigation strategies. Assigning a dollar value helps in prioritizing risks and performing cost-benefit analyses.

B (Cost-benefit ratio) is used in analysis, not direct impact expression.

C (Downtime estimate) is useful, but only a part of financial impact.

D (Frequency graph) represents likelihood, not impact.

Under 50/50 rule of comparative negligence, the plaintiff can collect for damages if he or she was responsible for more or less than 50 percentage of the negligence.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

Explanation:

Under the 50/50 rule (also known as the "modified comparative negligence" rule), the plaintiff may recover damages only if they are 50% or less at fault.
