Microsoft Collaboration Communications Systems Engineer Sample Questions (Q185-Q190):

NEW QUESTION # 185
You have a Microsoft Teams Phone deployment.
You are deploying Direct Routing by using a certified Session Border Controller (SBC). The FQDN of the SBC is sbc1.contoso.com. You use signaling port 5067.
You cannot place calls and receive an error message in the Microsoft Teams admin center as shown in the following exhibit.
What is a possible cause of the issue?

- A. Calling plan licenses are not assigned to users.
- B. The Forward P-Asserted Identify (PAI) header is disabled.
- C. The Digicert root certificate is missing on the SBC.
- D. The failover timer is set to 0 seconds.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Direct Routing in Microsoft Teams uses TLS (Transport Layer Security) to encrypt the communication between Teams and the SBC. For TLS to function correctly, the SBC must have a valid certificate chain, and the root certificate authority must be trusted by Microsoft.
If the Digicert root certificate (or any other required root certificate) is missing or not properly installed on the SBC, TLS connectivity cannot be established, resulting in an inactive TLS status.
This would prevent the SBC from communicating with Microsoft Teams and handling calls.

NEW QUESTION # 186
You have a global Teams Phone deployment that has local service numbers from multiple offices You need to ensure that when the users at an office in Sydney create a Teams meeting invite, the invite displays a local conferencing number by default What should you do?

- A. Modify the global (org-wide default) Audio Conferencing policy and assign a local service number from the Sydney office.
- B. Create a new caller ID policy and assign a local service number from the Sydney office.
- C. Create a new Audio Conferencing policy and assign a local service number from the Sydney office.
- D. Assign a local service number from the Sydney office to a resource account
