최신 Certified Professional Coder CPC 무료샘플문제 (Q15-Q20):

질문 # 15

(Which statement accurately reflects CPT parenthetical guidance for codes 69209 and 69210?)

- A. Report an E/M code and either 69209 or 69210 when the cerumen is impacted.
- B. When 69209 or 69210 is performed on both ears report the code twice.
- C. Report codes 69209 and 69210 when both are performed on the same ear.
- D. The cerumen must be stated as impacted to report either 69209 or 69210.

정답: D

설명:

Codes 69209 (removal of impacted cerumen by irrigation/lavage) and 69210 (removal of impacted cerumen requiring instrumentation) are intended for impacted cerumen, so documentation must support that the wax is impacted—not merely present. That makes option B the most accurate statement. Option A is incorrect because you generally do not report both methods for the same ear in the same session; you select the code that reflects the method required for that ear. Option C is not reliably correct for CPT rules because bilateral reporting for cerumen removal is typically handled using the payer's bilateral instructions (often modifier 50 or separate line items depending on payer), not a universal "report twice" instruction. Option D can be true in certain circumstances (significant, separately identifiable E/M), but it is not the core parenthetical principle tested here. CPC exam focus: impacted requirement + select the correct method code.

질문 # 16

What ICD-10-CM coding is reported for a patient who has hypertension and CKD stage 2?

- A. E03.9
- B. I12.9, N18.2

- C. I12.0, N18.2
- D. I10, E66.9

정답: B

설명:

When hypertension and chronic kidney disease (CKD) are documented together, ICD-10-CM assumes a cause-and-effect relationship.

I12.9 = Hypertensive chronic kidney disease with stage 1-4 CKD

N18.2 = CKD stage 2

I12.0 is only for CKD stage 5 or ESRD, which does not apply here.

Therefore, the correct code combination is I12.9, N18.2.

질문 # 17

A patient arrives with stridor and in respiratory distress. The provider performs a micro laryngoscopy using a Parson's laryngoscope and magnifying telescope. A bronchoscopy was also performed using a 2.5 Storz bronchoscope. The findings include subglottic web and stenosis with laryngeal edema suggestive of reflux. There was also significant collapse of the trachea at the carina and into the main bronchi bilaterally.

What CPT coding is reported?

- A. 31622, 31526-51
- B. 31622, 69990
- C. 31622, 31526-51, 69990
- D. 31629, 31526-51

정답: A

설명:

1. Procedure and CPT Code Selection:

The provider performed both a bronchoscopy and a microlaryngoscopy to evaluate the patient's airway due to respiratory distress and stridor.

Code 31622 is used for a diagnostic bronchoscopy, which includes the inspection of the trachea, carina, and bronchial structures. Since the bronchoscopy was diagnostic and no additional therapeutic procedures were performed, this is the appropriate code.

Code 31526 is for direct laryngoscopy with the use of an operating microscope or telescope (microlaryngoscopy). This code is appropriate given the use of a Parson's laryngoscope and magnifying telescope to inspect the larynx.

2. Modifier 51:

Modifier 51 is added to 31526 to indicate that it was performed in conjunction with another procedure (31622, bronchoscopy).

Modifier 51 denotes multiple procedures without the necessity of a separate incision.

3. Exclusion of Code 69990:

Code 69990 is used for the use of an operating microscope in microsurgery but is not coded separately when the procedure (such as microlaryngoscopy) already includes visualization with a microscope or telescope as part of the CPT descriptor. Thus, 69990 is not separately reported in this scenario, per CPT guidelines.

4. AAPC and CPT Coding Guidelines:

The guidelines specify that when visualization or microlaryngoscopy is inherently part of the procedure (as in 31526), 69990 should not be billed separately. Also, the use of Modifier 51 for multiple procedures in the same session is appropriate.

Therefore, the verified answer, following the CPT and AAPC coding rules, is A. 31622, 31526-51.

질문 # 18

A provider orders liquid chromatography mass spectrometry (LC-MS) definitive drug test for a patient suspected of acetaminophen (analgesic) overdose. What CPT code is reported for the test?

- A. 0
- B. B0329
- C. 1
- D. 2

정답: C

설명:

Frozen section pathology coding rules:

88331 - Frozen section, first tissue block, each specimen

88332 - Frozen section, each additional tissue block, same specimen

Breakdown:

Specimen 1

Block 1 → 88331 × 1

Block 2 → 88332 × 1

Specimen 2

Block 1 → 88331 × 1

Block 2 → 88332 × 1

However, multiple frozen sections per tissue block are separately reportable:

Total first blocks = 4 frozen sections → 88331 × 4

Total additional blocks = 3 frozen sections → 88332 × 3

CPT pathology guidelines require coding by tissue block and specimen, not by polyp alone.

질문 # 19

According to the ICD-10-CM Guidelines, what code is reported as an additional code when the blood pressure of a patient with hypertension remains above goal in spite of the use of antihypertensive medications?

- A. A code from category I27, Other pulmonary heart diseases.
- B. I11A.0, Resistant hypertension.
- C. A code from category I16, Hypertensive crisis.
- D. I10, Essential (primary) hypertension.

정답: B

설명:

According to ICD-10-CM Guidelines, I11A.0 (Resistant hypertension) is used to indicate hypertension that remains uncontrolled despite the use of multiple antihypertensive medications. Resistant hypertension is coded to highlight the severity of the patient's condition and the difficulty in managing their blood pressure. This code is added as a secondary code to reflect the persistent elevation of blood pressure despite medication.

A. I10 (Essential hypertension) is a general code for primary hypertension but does not specify resistance to treatment.

B. A code from category I27 is related to pulmonary heart diseases, not directly related to hypertension management issues.

D. A code from category I16 (Hypertensive crisis) is used for hypertensive emergencies or urgencies, which are acute episodes, not persistent uncontrolled hypertension despite treatment.

Thus, the correct answer is C. I11A.0, Resistant hypertension.
