- B. The organization's risk tolerance is high
- C. The organization uses exclusively a qualitative process to measure risk
- D. The organization uses exclusively a quantitative process to measure risk

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 493

When a critical vulnerability has been discovered on production systems and needs to be fixed immediately, what is the BEST approach for a CISO to mitigate the vulnerability under tight budget constraints?

- A. Take the system off line until budget is available
- B. Deploy countermeasures and compensation controls until the budget is available
- C. Transfer financial resources from other critical programs
- D. Schedule an emergency meeting and request the finding to fix the issue

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 494

What role does the statement of retained earnings serve within the financial reporting of an organization?

- A. It represents the percentage of profits that could be used to finance future investments, such as additional security program expenditures
- B. It summarizes all capital expenditures, including security services and vendor costs
- C. It represents savings from reduced security costs
- D. It directly corresponds to the annual security budget

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation (250-350 words)

The EC-Council CCISO program explains that the statement of retained earnings shows how much profit has been retained within the organization after dividends, which may be reinvested into future initiatives.

This includes funding strategic programs such as cybersecurity improvements. It does not summarize expenditures (Option B), define budgets (Option C), or track cost savings (Option D).

Thus, Option A is correct.

NEW QUESTION # 495

Within an organization's vulnerability management program, who has the responsibility to implement remediation actions?

- A. Data owner
- B. Vulnerability engineer
- C. System administrator
- D. Security officer

Answer: C

Explanation:

Role of System Administrator in Vulnerability Management:

- * System administrators are directly responsible for the configuration and maintenance of systems.
- * They implement remediation actions such as patching, system updates, and configuration changes as directed by the vulnerability management team.

Collaboration with Other Roles:

- * Vulnerability Engineers identify vulnerabilities.
- * Security Officers oversee and validate processes.
- * Data Owners ensure the protection of their specific assets but do not implement technical fixes.

References:

EC-Council highlights that system administrators play a key role in executing remediation actions within the vulnerability management lifecycle.

NEW QUESTION # 496

When project costs continually increase throughout implementation due to large or rapid changes in customer or user requirements, this is commonly known as:

- A. Expectations management
- B. Scope creep
- C. Cost/benefit adjustments
- D. Prototype issues

Answer: B

Explanation:

Scope creep occurs when the scope of a project expands uncontrollably due to changing customer or user requirements without corresponding adjustments to time, resources, and budget. This phenomenon leads to escalating costs and delays, as new requirements often require additional resources or changes to existing plans. It is distinct from cost-benefit adjustments or prototype issues, which are planned adjustments, and expectations management, which deals with aligning stakeholder expectations.
