ServiceNow Certified Application Developer-ServiceNow Sample Questions (Q160-Q165):

NEW QUESTION # 160
What is the ServiceNow store?

- A. Alternate name for the ServiceNow Developer Share site
- B. The source for ServiceNow Community created developer content
- C. Marketplace for free and paid certified ServiceNow applications and integrations
- D. Downloadable content ServiceNow script archive

Answer: C

Explanation:
The ServiceNow Store is a marketplace for free and paid certified ServiceNow applications and integrations. The ServiceNow Store provides customers with access to Now Certified enterprise workflow apps from partners that complement and extend ServiceNow products and solutions. Customers can browse, try, buy, and deploy apps and integrations that suit their needs and enhance their ServiceNow experience. The ServiceNow Store is not the source for ServiceNow Community created developer content, as that is available on the Developer Portal or the Share site. The ServiceNow Store is not a downloadable content ServiceNow script archive, as that is available on the Script Library or the Script Repository. The ServiceNow Store is not an alternate name for the ServiceNow Developer Share site, as that is a separate site where developers can share applications, code snippets, UI pages, etc. Reference: ServiceNow Store

Identify the incorrect statement about Delegated Development in ServiceNow.

- A. Administrators can grant the developer access to security records.
- B. Administrators can specify which application file types the developer can access.
- C. Administrators can grant non-admin users the ability to develop global applications.
- D. Administrators can grant the developer access to script fields.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Administrators can grant non-admin users the ability to develop global applications. Delegated Development is for the scoped applications only Reference:
The incorrect statement about Delegated Development in ServiceNow is that administrators can grant non-admin users the ability to develop global applications. Delegated Development allows administrators to grant non-admin users the ability to develop scoped applications, not global applications. Global applications are accessible by all other applications and do not have a namespace prefix. Scoped applications are isolated from other applications and have a unique namespace identifier. Delegated Development provides more granular control over the developer permissions, application resources, and data access.
