NEW QUESTION # 95

To increase participation in an employee engagement survey, it is most important for it to be:

- A. Confidential
- B. Concise
- C. Timely
- D. Relevant

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

Employee engagement surveys measure employees' feelings about their work environment, leadership, and job satisfaction. To increase participation, the survey must be confidential, ensuring employees feel safe to provide honest feedback without fear of retaliation. Anonymity encourages higher response rates by building trust.

* Option A (Timely): While timing matters, it is not the most critical factor for participation.

* Option B (Concise): A concise survey is helpful, but employees may still not participate if they fear their responses aren't private.

* Option C (Relevant): Relevance ensures meaningful data, but it doesn't directly drive participation.
