- A. Record summary prompt template
- B. Flex prompt template
- C. Email generation prompt template

Answer: B

Explanation:

Universal Containers (UC) wants to enable its sales team to leverage AI to recommend products from its catalog. The best option for this use case is a Flex prompt template.

A Flex prompt template is designed to provide flexible, customizable AI-driven recommendations or responses based on specific data points, such as product information, customer needs, or sales history. This template type allows the AI to consider various inputs and parameters, making it ideal for generating product recommendations dynamically.

NEW QUESTION # 174

Universal Containers built a Field Generation prompt template that worked for many records, but users are reporting random failures with token limit errors. What is the cause of the random nature of this error?

- A. The number of tokens that can be processed by the LLM varies with total user demand.
- B. The number of tokens generated by the dynamic nature of the prompt template will vary by record.
- C. The template type needs to be switched to Flex to accommodate the variable amount of tokens generated by the prompt grounding.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Salesforce Agentforce, prompt templates are used to generate dynamic responses or field values by leveraging an LLM, often with grounding data from Salesforce records or external sources. The scenario describes a Field Generation prompt template that fails intermittently with token limit errors, indicating that the issue is tied to exceeding the LLM's token capacity (e.g., input + output tokens). The random nature of these failures suggests variability in the token count across different records, which is directly addressed by Option B.

Prompt templates in Agentforce can be dynamic, meaning they pull in record-specific data (e.g., customer names, descriptions, or other fields) to generate output. Since the data varies by record-some records might have short text fields while others have lengthy ones-the total number of tokens (words, characters, or subword units processed by the LLM) fluctuates. When the token count exceeds the LLM's limit (e.g., 4,096 tokens for some models), the process fails, but this only happens for records with higher token-generating data, explaining the randomness.
