NEW QUESTION # 186

A Household Account has Contacts with Recurring Donations, Relationships, and closed/won donations associated with it. What happens when a system administrator attempts to delete this Household Account record?

- A. There is an error message because there are relationships associated with the Contacts in this Account.
- B. The Household Account record is deleted.
- C. There is an error message because there are closed/won donations associated with the Account record.
- D. There is an error message because there are recurring donations associated with the Contacts in this Account.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When a system administrator attempts to delete a Household Account record that has Contacts with Recurring Donations, Relationships, and closed/won donations, Salesforce will display an error message due to the presence of closed/won donations associated with the Account record.

Log in to Salesforce: Access the Salesforce org where NPSP is installed.

Navigate to the Household Account:

Go to the Accounts tab and locate the Household Account record.

Attempt to Delete the Account:

Try to delete the Household Account record.

Salesforce will prevent the deletion and display an error message because there are closed/won donations linked to this Account.

Review Associated Records:

Check for closed/won Opportunities and other related records that are preventing deletion.

If necessary, consider reassigning or archiving these records instead of deleting the Household Account.

This safeguard ensures data integrity by preventing the loss of critical financial records.

NEW QUESTION # 187

Which two actions should a consultant take before importing a large volume of data into an NPSP org?

- A. Disable certain Apex classes using TDIM
- B. Check if the data is clean, structured, and in its final format
- C. Check the code coverage of the target org
- D. Disable certain Apex classes manually in production

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Before importing a large volume of data into an NPSP org, it's crucial to ensure data quality and optimize performance. Here are the steps:

Check if the Data is Clean, Structured, and in its Final Format:

Review the data to ensure it is free of duplicates, correctly formatted, and complete.

Clean data before importing to avoid data quality issues.

Disable Certain Apex Classes Using TDIM:

Navigate to NPSP Settings in Salesforce.

Under "Settings", find "TDIM (Table Driven Trigger Management)".

Temporarily disable non-essential Apex classes that might interfere with the data import process. This helps improve the import performance and reduces the risk of errors.

NEW QUESTION # 188

The system administrator at a nonprofit encounters a 500 server error when trying to map additional objects and fields with Advanced Mapping.

What is likely causing the error?

- A. The administrator is trying to map to an object from a managed package.
- B. A user modified or deleted a mapped field.
- C. The target field has a validation rule in place.
- D. The administrator is trying to map to an unsupported field type.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The likely cause of encountering a 500 server error when trying to map additional objects and fields with Advanced Mapping is attempting to map to an unsupported field type. Advanced Mapping in Salesforce has specific requirements and limitations regarding the types of fields that can be mapped.

Key Considerations:

Supported Field Types: Ensure that the target fields are of supported types, such as text, currency, number, date, or address fields.

Field Compatibility: Unsupported field types, such as certain complex formula fields or picklists, can cause errors during the mapping process.

Steps to Resolve:

Review Field Types:

Verify the field types of the target fields you are trying to map to ensure they are supported.

Check Documentation:

Refer to Salesforce documentation on Advanced Mapping to confirm the supported field types and any limitations.

NEW QUESTION # 189

A user creating Opportunities Wants information to appear on both the Opportunity record and the Payment record without having to enter it twice.

Which two steps should the consultant take to meet this requirement?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Create Payment Mappings in NPSF Settings.
- B. Create custom automation on the Payment object.
- C. Create lookup fields on the Payment object.
- D. Create custom fields on the Payment object.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

To ensure information appears on both the Opportunity and Payment records without entering it twice, the following steps should be taken:

Create Custom Fields on the Payment Object:

Identify the fields that need to be shared between the Opportunity and Payment records.

Go to the Payment object in Salesforce and create custom fields that match those on the Opportunity object.

Create Payment Mappings in NPSF Settings:

Navigate to NPSF Settings.

Go to the "Donations" section and find "Payment Mappings."

Set up mappings to link Opportunity fields to the corresponding Payment fields.

This ensures that when an Opportunity is created or updated, the relevant data is automatically copied to the Payment record.

By creating custom fields and setting up payment mappings, the required information will be synchronized between Opportunity and Payment records, eliminating the need for duplicate data entry.
