VMware Avi Load Balancer 30.x Administrator Sample Questions (Q41-

Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Which statement is true for Avi to compress an HTTP response?

- A. The Web Application Firewall must be disabled
- B. Client round-trip time must be greater than 100 ms
- C. Caching must be disabled
- D. The client's Accept-Encoding header must be in the request

Answer: D

Explanation:

HTTP compression depends on whether the client indicates support for compressed content. In Avi Load Balancer compression configuration, the Accept-Encoding request header is relevant because it tells the system what compression encodings the client can accept. Therefore, for Avi to compress an HTTP response, the client request must include an appropriate Accept-Encoding header.

NEW QUESTION # 42

A Security Administrator is configuring a policy to add an HSTS (HTTP Strict Transport Security) header to all HTTPS responses to improve security. Which policy type and execution point should be used?

- A. A Network Security Policy
- B. An HTTP Request Policy
- C. A DNS Policy
- D. An HTTP Response Policy

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 43

What are the primary performance advantages of using an L4 Virtual Service with a System-L4 profile compared to an L7 Virtual Service with a System-HTTP profile? (Select all that apply.)

- A. L4 Virtual Services allow for more granular traffic manipulation via HTTP policies.
- B. L4 Virtual Services provide better content caching.
- C. L4 Virtual Services can handle more concurrent connections on the same Service Engine.
- D. L4 processing consumes fewer Service Engine CPU cycles per connection.
- E. L4 processing typically results in lower latency.
- F. L4 Virtual Services support stronger SSL/TLS encryption.

Answer: C,D,E

NEW QUESTION # 44

In a Service Engine Group configured for N+M high availability, what is the state of the 'M' buffer Service Engines during normal operation?

- A. They are powered on and running, but are kept idle (not hosting any virtual services), ready to take over in case of a failure.
- B. They are powered off and are powered on by the Avi Controller only when a failure occurs.
- C. They are used exclusively for processing health monitor traffic to reduce the load on the active SEs.
- D. They are active and processing traffic alongside the 'N' primary Service Engines.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 45

Which issue or scenario requires elastic scale-out?

- A. Managing heavy increases in traffic volume without disruption
- B. Enabling Web Application Firewall
- C. Mitigating disruption if a Controller fails
- D. Processing requests across multiple protocols

Answer: A

Explanation:

Elastic scale-out is used to increase data-plane capacity by placing a Virtual Service on additional Service Engines or by increasing Service Engine capacity in response to demand. Avi Elastic HA combines scale-out performance and high availability, and Avi autoscale features are designed to add Service Engine capacity when traffic growth requires more resources. This directly addresses situations where a Virtual Service must handle heavy increases in traffic volume without application disruption. Controller failure protection is handled by Controller clustering, not elastic data-plane scale-out. Processing multiple protocols is a Virtual Service design and profile configuration concern. Enabling WAF is an application security feature and can increase resource needs, but it does not itself define the scenario requiring elastic scale-out. Therefore, the correct answer is C.
