Microsoft Cybersecurity Architect Sample Questions (Q217-Q222):

NEW QUESTION # 217

Hotspot Question

Your on-premises network contains an Active Directory Domain Services (AD DS) domain. The domain contains a group named Group1 and five servers that run Windows Server. Each server contains a standalone app. Each app is used by the members of Group1.

You have a Microsoft Entra tenant that syncs with the domain.

You plan to manage access to the apps by deploying Global Secure Access. You will use a Conditional Access policy to enforce security controls for all connections to the apps.

You need to recommend a Global Secure Access app and Microsoft Entra private network connector configuration for the planned deployment. The solution must minimize administrative effort and be highly available.

What is the minimum number of Global Secure Access apps and private network connectors you should recommend? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer Area

Global Secure Access apps:

One enterprise application
One Quick Access app
Five enterprise applications
Five Quick Access apps

Private network connectors:

1

Five Quick Access apps

Private network connectors:

1
2
5
10

Explanation:

Box 1: Five enterprise applications

Global Secure Access apps

Configuring your Quick Access settings is a major component to utilizing Microsoft Entra Private Access. When you configure Quick Access for the first time, Private Access creates a new enterprise application. The properties of this new app are automatically configured to work with Private Access.

Box 2: 5

Private network connectors

Five servers, so give network connectors needed.

Connectors are lightweight agents that sit on a server in a private network and facilitate the outbound connection to the Global Secure Access service. Connectors must be installed on a Windows Server that has access to the backend resources and applications. You can organize connectors into connector groups, with each group handling traffic to specific applications.

Windows server

The Microsoft Entra private network connector requires a server running Windows Server 2012 R2 or later. You'll install the private network connector on the server. This connector server needs to connect to the Microsoft Entra Private Access service or application proxy service and the private resources or applications that you plan to publish.
