ISTQB Certified Tester Foundation Level (CTFL v4.0) Sample Questions (Q321-Q326):

NEW QUESTION # 321

Which of the following is an INCORRECT statement about the benefit of traceability between the test basis and test work products?

- A. Traceability may help evaluate the extent of test coverage
- B. Traceability may be required by IT governance rules
- C. Traceability may make it harder to understand the impact of changes
- D. Traceability may allow testing to be auditable

Answer: C

Explanation:

The statement "Traceability may make it harder to understand the impact of changes" is incorrect. Traceability in testing actually facilitates understanding the impact of changes by linking test cases to requirements. This linkage helps ensure that any changes in the requirements are adequately reflected and verified in the test cases, thus supporting effective management of changes and maintaining the integrity of the system or product being developed (ISTQB not-for-profit association) (ISTQB Main Web).References:

NEW QUESTION # 322

You are testing a room upgrade system for a hotel. The system accepts three differed types of room (increasing order of luxury): Platinum, Silver and Gold Luxury. ONLY a Preferred Guest Card holder s eligible for an upgrade.

Below you can find the decision table defining the upgrade eligibility:

What is the expected result for each of the following test cases?

Customer A: Preference Guest Card holder, holding a Silver room

Customer B: Non Preferred Guest Card holder, holding a Platinum room

- A. Customer A: offers upgrade to Silver room; Customer B: offers upgrade to Silver room.
- B. Customer A: doesn't offer any upgrade; Customer B: doesn't offer any upgrade.
- C. Customer A: offers upgrade to Gold Luxury room; Customer B: doesn't offer any upgrade
- D. Customer A; doesn't offer any upgrade; Customer B: offers upgrade to Gold luxury room

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the decision table in the image, a Preferred Guest Card holder with a Silver room is eligible for an upgrade to Gold Luxury (YES), while a non-Preferred Guest Card holder, regardless of room type, is not eligible for any upgrade (NO). Therefore, Customer A (a Preferred Guest Card holder with a Silver room) would be offered an upgrade to Gold Luxury, and Customer B (a non-Preferred Guest Card holder with a Platinum room) would not be offered any upgrade. Reference = The answer is derived directly from the decision table provided in the image; specific ISTQB Certified Tester Foundation Level (CTFL) v4.0 documents are not referenced.

NEW QUESTION # 323

Which of the following work products cannot be examined by static analysis?

- A. Source code
- B. Test plans
- C. Formal models
- D. Compiled code

Answer: B

Explanation:

Static analysis is the process of examining the work products of a software development or testing activity without executing them. Static analysis can be applied to various types of work products, such as requirements, design, code, test cases, etc. However, test plans are not suitable for static analysis, because they are high-level documents that describe the test objectives, scope, strategy, resources, schedule, and risks of a testing project. Test plans are not executable or formalized in a way that static analysis tools can analyze them.

Therefore, option A is the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 324

Which of the following statements is the BEST example of non-functional testing?

- A. Tests related to "what" the system should do
- B. Tests based on the internal structure of a component or system
- C. Tests which capture the time it takes to save a file
- D. Tests which calculate overtime pay for those employees entitled to such

Answer: C

Explanation:

Non-functional testing refers to testing aspects that do not relate to specific behaviors or functions of the software but to attributes such as performance, usability, reliability, etc. Tests that capture the time it takes to save a file directly relate to the performance of the system, thus falling under non-functional testing.

NEW QUESTION # 325

Your organization's test strategy states that it is desirable to use more than one method for estimating test effort. You are responsible for estimating test effort for the next project. Based on historical data, the development-to-test effort ratio is 5:3.

The initial estimate for the development effort is 450 person-days.

Which ONE of the following options corresponds to the estimated test effort using the ratio-based method?

- A. 180 person-days
- B. 720 person-days
- C. 750 person-days
- D. 270 person-days

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation: The ratio-based estimation method relies on historical relationships between development and testing effort.

Using the given 5:3 ratio:

$$\text{Test Effort} = \left(\frac{3}{5} \times \text{Development Effort}\right) = \left(\frac{3}{5} \times 450\right) = 270 \text{ person-days}$$

Thus, the correct answer is 270 person-days (D).

* (A) and (C) are incorrect as they overestimate the effort.

* (B) underestimates the testing effort based on the ratio.

Ratio-based estimation helps allocate resources effectively based on past project data.
