arrays are located 800 km apart.

What information should be provided to the administrator?

- A. NDM is only supported if the target array is running PowerMax OS 5978
- B. NDM is only supported if the source array is running HYPERMAX OS 5977
- C. NDM is not supported between the arrays
- D. NDM is supported between the arrays

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 88

Four snapshots of a single source volume have been created. The snapshots were created with the same name at 8:00 AM, 10:00 AM, 12:00 PM: and 2:00 PM.

What is the generation number of the snapshot created at 2:00 PM?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: C

Explanation:

Step by Step Comprehensive Detailed Explanation:

In TimeFinder SnapVX, snapshots of a source volume are assigned generation numbers. These numbers indicate the order in which the snapshots were created. The first snapshot taken has a generation number of 0, the second has 1, and so on.

In this case, four snapshots were created at different times:

* 8:00 AM (Generation 0)

* 10:00 AM (Generation 1)

* 12:00 PM (Generation 2)

* 2:00 PM (Generation 3)

Therefore, the snapshot created at 2:00 PM has a generation number of 3.

NEW QUESTION # 90

Which three device types can be managed using Solutions Enabler and Unisphere?

- A. SRDF Thin Devices (RDF1 or RDF2)
- B. Internal Thin Devices (Int+TDEV)
- C. Thin Devices (TDEV)
- D. Data Devices (TDATs)
- E. Thin BCV Devices (BCV+TDEV)

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Step by Step Comprehensive Detailed Explanation:

Dell PowerMax storage arrays utilize different device types for various purposes. Solutions Enabler (SYMCLI) and Unisphere for PowerMax are management tools that can interact with these device types.

Here's a breakdown:

* SRDF Thin Devices (RDF1 or RDF2): These devices are specifically used for SRDF (Symmetrix Remote Data Facility) replication. RDF1 devices represent the local copy of data in an SRDF relationship, while RDF2 devices represent the remote copy. Both Solutions Enabler and Unisphere can manage these devices to configure and monitor SRDF replication.

* Internal Thin Devices (Int+TDEV): These are thin provisioned devices that reside within the PowerMax storage array. They are used for general storage purposes and can be managed by both Solutions Enabler and Unisphere for tasks like provisioning, allocating capacity, and monitoring performance.

* Thin Devices (TDEV): This is a general term for thin provisioned devices in PowerMax. Thin provisioning allows for efficient storage utilization by allocating capacity on demand. Both Solutions Enabler and Unisphere can manage these devices.

Why other options are incorrect:

* B. Thin BCV Devices (BCV+TDEV): BCV (Business Continuance Volume) devices are used for creating point-in-time copies for disaster recovery. While Solutions Enabler can manage BCV devices, Unisphere for PowerMax has limited functionality for managing them directly.

* D. Data Devices (TDATs): TDATs are physical devices within the PowerMax array. While Solutions Enabler can interact with TDATs at a lower level, Unisphere for PowerMax primarily focuses on managing logical devices and storage groups.
