IIBA Entry Certificate in Business Analysis (ECBA) Sample Questions (Q151-Q156):

NEW QUESTION # 151

A solution is considered to be successful when the:

- A. business need is satisfied.
- B. organization is ready to accept it.
- C. performance evaluation is positive.
- D. stakeholders' expectations are met.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A solution is considered successful when it satisfies the business need it was intended to address. This means that the solution has effectively resolved the problem or fulfilled the requirement that prompted its development. While meeting stakeholders' expectations, ensuring the organization is ready to accept the solution, and having a positive performance evaluation are all important, they are secondary to the primary goal of meeting the business need.

References: The Business Analysis Body of Knowledge (BABOK) guide emphasizes that the success of a solution is measured by its ability to meet the business needs. This aligns with the principles and practices outlined in the resources provided by the International Institute of Business Analysis (IIBA) for business analysis certifications<sup>1</sup>.
