Huawei HCSP-Presales-Government Public Services V1.0 Sample Questions (Q220-Q225):

NEW QUESTION # 220

Digital transformation can be divided into which stages?

- A. Basic informatization
- B. Application digitalization
- C. Smart/ecosystem stage

- D. Application intelligence

Answer: A,B,C,D

Explanation:

Mainstream frameworks usually define digital transformation as progressive stages: basic informatization (traditional IT and electronic processes), application digitalization (data integration and analytics for business optimization), application intelligence (AI, IoT, automation and intelligent decisions), and smart/ecosystem stage (platformization and ecosystem collaboration to create new value).

NEW QUESTION # 221

Which of the following is not a data-return method supported by the integrated pole-station in the Smart Water Conservancy solution?

- A. NB-IoT
- B. Point-to-multipoint microwave
- C. Service efficiency
- D. 4G/5G mobile operator networks

Answer: A

Explanation:

NB-IoT (Low-Power Wide-Area Network) is designed for end-device access, not backhaul communication.

Water-network poles typically use 4G/5G or microwave links for data return; "service efficiency" is not a technical method.

NEW QUESTION # 222

According to the Guidelines for Building a National Integrated Government Big Data System issued by the General Office of the State Council, which method is used to connect data from the Party Committee, People's Congress, CPPCC, Discipline Inspection and Supervision Commissions, courts, procuratorates, and the military?

- A. Market Mechanism
- B. "Head-to-Head" (Overall-to-Overall)
- C. Platform Integration
- D. Sharing and Exchange

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Guidelines specify that data from the Party Committee, People's Congress, CPPCC, supervisory and judicial organs, and the military is connected through a "head-to-head" overall-to-overall docking model.

This means the national-level government big-data platform builds direct, high-level connections with these bodies to exchange data securely and efficiently, which improves sharing, coordination, and decision support across the whole system.

- A. MCU backup mechanism to ensure meeting stability
