Salesforce Certified Platform Administrator Sample Questions (Q146-Q151):

NEW QUESTION # 146

The Cloud Kicks CFO requires any opportunity over $100,000 to be automatically sent to them, so they can sign off on the record before the deal closes. Which feature should a Platform Administrator use to fulfill this requirement?

- A. Submit for Approval button
- B. Apex Triggers
- C. Flow Approvals
- D. Einstein Next Best Action

Answer: C

Explanation:

The requirement to have a record "signed off" by a specific individual (the CFO) based on a dollar threshold is a classic use case for an Approval Process. While the "Submit for Approval" button (Option A) allows a user to manually start the process, the prompt specifies that the process should happen "automatically". To achieve this automation, the Platform Administrator should use Flow Builder to trigger the approval process. A Record-Triggered Flow can be set to run when an Opportunity is created or updated and meets the criteria (Amount > $100,000). The flow would then use the "Submit for Approval" action to launch the record into the predefined approval process without requiring the sales rep to click a button. Einstein Next Best Action (Option B) is a recommendation tool, not a workflow enforcement tool. Apex Triggers (Option C) could perform this task, but Salesforce best practices recommend using "clicks not code" (Flow) whenever possible for such requirements. Using Flow to launch an Approval Process provides the necessary automation, routing, and audit trail the CFO requires.

NEW QUESTION # 147

Universal Containers' Platform Administrator has been asked to create a many-to-many relationship between two existing custom objects. Which two steps should the administrator take when enabling the many-to-many relationship?

- A. Create a junction with a custom object.
- B. Create two lookup relationships on the new object.
- C. Create two master-detail relationships on the new object.
- D. Create URL fields on a custom object.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

In Salesforce, a many-to-many relationship allows each record of one object to be linked to multiple records of another object and vice versa. This is achieved by using a Junction Object. A junction object is a custom object that sits between the two objects you want to relate. To implement this correctly, the administrator must follow two specific steps: first, create the custom object to serve as the "junction"; second, create two Master-Detail relationship fields on that new junction object. One master-detail field points to the first custom object, and the second points to the other. Because these are master-detail relationships, the junction record's visibility and deletion behavior are controlled by its parents. This structure allows for powerful reporting and roll-up summaries on both parent objects. Using simple lookup relationships (Option D) would not enforce the strict data integrity or the specific roll-up capabilities that define a true many-to-many relationship in the Salesforce architecture.

NEW QUESTION # 148

A Platform Administrator at Ursa Major Solar wants to add prepopulated subjects for Tasks and Events. Tasks should have the subjects "Schedule Site Visit" and "Send Contract", while Events should have the subjects "Site Visit" and "Ride Along". What should the administrator configure to achieve this requirement?

- A. Add Schedule Site Visit and Send Contract picklist values for the Task subject field. Add Site Visit and Ride Along picklist values for the Event subject field.
- B. Add the new values to the predefined field values for the global actions New Event and New Task.
- C. Create a new custom Subject picklist field on Activity and add the field values.
- D. Include Schedule Site Visit, Send Contract, Site Visit, and Ride Along picklist values for the Activity subject field.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Tasks and Events are both part of the Activity object, but they often require different picklist values for the standard Subject field. To achieve this, the Platform Administrator must manage the picklist values for the Subject field specifically for each record type or activity type. In the Object Manager, under the Activity object (or Task/Event objects individually in some setups), the admin should edit the Subject field. Because Task and Event are distinct entities with their own picklist value sets for the Subject field, the admin can add "Schedule Site Visit" and "Send Contract" to the Task Subject list and "Site Visit" and "Ride Along" to the Event Subject list. This ensures that when a user creates a Task, they only see task-related subjects, and when they create an Event, they see event-related subjects. Option D is incorrect because it would mix all values together, causing confusion for the users. Option A (Predefined Field Values) is used to set a single default value for a field when an action is clicked, but it does not manage the available list of options in a picklist.

NEW QUESTION # 149

An agent is being developed with several actions that all retrieve information from different databases. A Platform Administrator has named the actions as follows: GetCustomerInfo, GetOrderDetails, GetShippingStatus. Which best practice should the administrator follow to improve these names?

- A. Use a consistent naming convention by starting each action with the verb "Get".
- B. Use additional related verbs, such as Find, Retrieve, or Identify.
- C. Remove all verbs and use only nouns, such as CustomerInfo, OrderDetails, and ShippingStatus.
- D. Add the word "Salesforce" to the beginning of each action name to improve context for the large language model.

Answer: A

Explanation:

When naming actions for an AI agent, consistency is key to helping the Large Language Model (LLM) categorize and understand the available tools. Following a consistent naming convention, such as starting all retrieval actions with the verb "Get," allows the agent to more easily map user intent (e.g., "I need information about...") to the appropriate action. This reduces ambiguity during the reasoning phase of the agentic loop. Using inconsistent verbs like Find, Retrieve, or Identify (Option D) can confuse the model regarding which action is most appropriate for a given task. Removing verbs entirely (Option A) makes it harder for the model to distinguish between an action (doing something) and a data object (a thing). Adding "Salesforce" (Option B) is generally redundant as the agent's context is already within the Salesforce environment.

NEW QUESTION # 150

A Platform Administrator is building an agent to nurture leads. How does Agentforce SDR help?

- A. Analyze the performance of human sales reps and provide coaching tips.
- B. Generate a dynamic call script and talking points for the human sales reps to use.
- C. Answer the lead's questions with responses that are grounded in company data.

- D. Autonomously negotiate pricing with the lead and close the final deal.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Agentforce SDR (Sales Development Representative) is an AI agent designed to autonomously engage with prospects to nurture leads and accelerate the sales pipeline. A core functionality of this agent is its ability to interact with potential customers by answering their specific questions about products or services. Crucially, these responses are grounded in company data, meaning the agent retrieves relevant information from the Salesforce Knowledge base, product catalogs, or other internal resources to provide accurate, brand-aligned answers. This ensures that the agent provides high-quality, trustworthy information without the "hallucinations" common in non-grounded AI. While the agent helps in lead qualification and nurturing, its primary value in an ecommerce or sales support context is providing immediate, context-aware assistance. It is not intended to replace humans in complex price negotiations (Option B) or serve purely as a coaching tool (Option C), but rather to act as a front-line digital worker that scales the sales team's reach by handling information-seeking queries autonomously.
