A recently deployed AI system becomes persistently unavailable. A restart temporarily fixes the issue, but the issue happens again. Upon examination of application programming interface (API) logs, an analyst finds that external calls continued to use system resources after the action completed.
Which of the following is the best way to improve availability of the system?

- A. Increasing system memory
- B. Enforcing session expiration
- C. Implementing multifactor authentication (MFA)

- D. Creating token limits

Answer: B

Explanation:
The persistent unavailability is caused by external calls consuming resources even after completion, indicating sessions are not being closed. Enforcing session expiration ensures unused sessions are terminated, freeing resources and improving system availability.
