Cisco Certified Support Technician (CCST) Cybersecurity Sample Questions (Q250-Q255):

NEW QUESTION # 250

Which cryptographic technique is used to ensure the integrity of data without the ability to reverse the process?

- A. Digital signature
- B. Hashing algorithm
- C. Symmetric encryption
- D. Asymmetric encryption

Answer: B

Explanation:

Hashing is a cryptographic technique where an input (data/message) is processed through an algorithm to produce a fixed-size output, known as a hash value. The key characteristic of hashing is that it is a one-way function, meaning that it is computationally infeasible to reverse the process and derive the original input from the hash value. Hashing is commonly used to verify data integrity, as even a small change in the input will result in a significantly different hash value.

NEW QUESTION # 251

What is the primary function of a server in a network infrastructure?

- A. Monitor network traffic
- B. Store and manage files
- C. Filter incoming and outgoing traffic
- D. Detect and prevent intrusions

Answer: B

Explanation:

A server is a computer or system that is dedicated to serving the needs of other computers (clients) on a network. A primary function of a server is to store and manage files, applications, and other resources that can be accessed by clients over the network.

NEW QUESTION # 252

Which of the following is a benefit of utilizing automated threat intelligence within a cybersecurity system?

- A. Increased vulnerability detection
- B. Reduced false positives
- C. Improved incident response time
- D. All of the above

Answer: D

Explanation:

Automated threat intelligence systems gather and analyze vast amounts of data to identify potential threats and vulnerabilities. By utilizing these systems, organizations can benefit from reduced false positives, increased vulnerability detection, and improved incident response time. This comprehensive approach enhances the overall effectiveness of a cybersecurity system.

NEW QUESTION # 253

Which of the following best describes asset management in the context of cybersecurity?

- A. Managing network infrastructure
- B. Identifying and protecting valuable resources
- C. Tracking software licenses
- D. Monitoring user activity

Answer: B

Explanation:

Asset management in a cybersecurity context involves identifying and protecting valuable resources within an organization. This includes identifying critical systems, data, and information that need to be protected from unauthorized access, modification, or destruction.

NEW QUESTION # 254

What logging mechanism is commonly used to track and record security-related events and activities in an organization?

- A. Audit logs
- B. System and application logs
- C. Event Viewer
- D. Syslog

Answer: A

Explanation:

Audit logs are specifically designed to track and record security-related events and activities in an organization. They capture information about user actions, system changes, and resource access attempts, providing a detailed record for forensic analysis, compliance auditing, and security investigation purposes.
