NEW QUESTION # 93

Universal Container's (UC) is using Salesforce Experience Cloud site for its containerwholesale business. The identity architect wants to an authentication provider for the new site.

Which two options should be utilized in creating an authentication provider?

Choose 2 answers

- A. A custom registration handler can be set.
- B. The default authentication provider certificate can be set.
- C. A custom error URL can be set.
- D. The default login user can be set.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

An authentication provider is a configuration that allows users to log in to Salesforce using an external identity provider, such as Facebook, Google, or a custom one. When creating an authentication provider, two options that can be utilized are:

* A custom registration handler, which is a class that implements the Auth.RegistrationHandler interface and defines how to create or update users in Salesforce based on the information from the external identity provider.

* A custom error URL, which is a URL that users are redirected to when an error occurs during the authentication process.

NEW QUESTION # 94

Universal containers wants salesforce inbound OAuth-enabled integration clients to use SAML-BASED single Sign-on for authentication. What OAuth flow would be recommended in this scenario?

- A. SAML assertion OAuth flow
- B. User-Agent OAuth flow
- C. Web server OAuth flow
- D. User-Token OAuth flow

Answer: A

Explanation:

The SAML assertion OAuth flow allows a connected app to use a SAML assertion to request an OAuth access token to call Salesforce APIs. This flow provides an alternative for orgs that are currently using SAML to access Salesforce and want to access the web services API in the same way. This flow can be used for inbound OAuth-enabled integration clients that want to use SAML-based single sign-on for authentication.

NEW QUESTION # 95

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) has a number of employees who do NOT need access Salesforce objects. These employees should sign in to a custom Benefits web app using their Salesforce credentials.

Which license should the identity architect recommend to fulfill this requirement?

- A. Identity Only License
- B. Identity Connect License
- C. External Identity License
- D. Identity Verification Credits Add-on License

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

To allow employees to sign in to a custom Benefits web app using their Salesforce credentials, the identity architect should recommend the Identity Only License. The Identity Only License is a license type that enables users to access external applications that are integrated with Salesforce using single sign-on (SSO) or delegated authentication, but not access Salesforce objects or data. The other license types are not relevant for this scenario. References: Identity Only License, User Licenses

NEW QUESTION # 96

Universal Containers is creating a mobile application that will be secured by Salesforce Identity using the OAuth 2.0 user-agent flow. Application users will authenticate using username and password. They should not be forced to approve API access in the mobile app or reauthenticate for 3 months.

Which two connected app options need to be configured to fulfill this use case?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Set the Refresh Token Policy to expire refresh token after 3 months.
- B. Set Permitted Users to "Admin approved users are pre-authorized".
- C. Set the Session Timeout value to 3 months.
- D. Set Permitted Users to "All users may self-authorize".

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

For a mobile app using the user-agent flow, two connected-app controls work together when the business wants a long-lived session without repeated approval prompts. First, the app should be set to Admin Approved Users Are Pre-Authorized so users are not asked to approve API access inside the mobile experience. Second, the refresh-token policy should be configured for the required lifetime, such as three months, so the app can keep renewing access without forcing the user to log in again. A session timeout controls the UI session but not the refresh-token lifecycle in the same way. The architectural point is that user consent suppression and durable reauthentication behavior are governed by separate connected-app policies.

This is why options C, D work together as the correct solution.

NEW QUESTION # 97

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) is planning to implement a community for its customers using Salesforce Experience Cloud.

Customers are not able to self-register. NTO would like to have customers set their own passwords when provided access to the community.

Which two recommendations should an identity architect make to fulfill this requirement?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Enable Welcome emails while configuring the Experience Cloud site.
- B. Use Login Flows to allow users to reset password in Experience Cloud site.
- C. Add customers as contacts and add them to Experience Cloud site.
- D. Allow Password reset using the API to update Experience Cloud site membership.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Explanation

Allowing password reset using the API and using login flows are two possible ways to enable customers to set their own passwords in Experience Cloud. The other options are not relevant for this requirement, as they do not address the password issue. References: Allow Password Reset Using the API, Use Login Flows to Allow Users to Reset Passwords in Experience Cloud Sites
