NEW QUESTION # 109
What should be the type of the Event Time Field while ingesting Engagement data?

- A. None of the above
- B. Immutable
- C. Inconsistent
- D. Mutable

Answer: B

Explanation:
The type of the Event Time Field while ingesting Engagement datashould be Immutable. Immutable means that the field value cannot be changed once it is ingested. The Event Time Field is a mandatory field for Engagement data that represents the timestamp of when an event occurred. It is important to keep this field immutable to ensure the accuracy and consistency of the event data.

NEW QUESTION # 110
The Data Cloud admin at Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) wants to be proactively and immediately informed via Slack and email if any of the data streams fail for any reason. If this happens, a case should also be triggered as part of NTO's existing support and triage process, and reflected in its global monitoring dashboard.
What should a consultant recommend for these requirements?

- A. Salesforce reports and dashboards
- B. Data actions
- C. Data Cloud Query Editor
- D. Salesforce flows

Answer: D

Explanation:
To meet the requirement of being proactively and immediately informed via Slack and email if any data streams fail, and to trigger a case as part of the support process, the best solution is to use Salesforce Flows .
Here's why and how this works:
Understanding the Requirements :
The admin wants to be notified immediately via Slack and email when a data stream fails.
A case should also be created automatically to reflect the issue in the global monitoring dashboard.
This requires an automated process that integrates with both internal systems (e.g., Slack, email) and external workflows (e.g., case creation).
Why Salesforce Flows?
Salesforce Flows are highly flexible and can automate complex business processes. They can monitor system events (e.g., data stream failures) and trigger actions like sending notifications or creating records.

Flows can integrate seamlessly with Slack and email using platform events and action elements.

They can also create cases programmatically and update dashboards for real-time monitoring.

Steps to Implement This Solution :

Step 1: Navigate to Setup > Process Automation > Flows and create a new flow.

Step 2: Configure a Platform Event Trigger or Record-Triggered Flow to listen for data stream failure events.

Step 3: Add an action element to send a notification to Slack using the Slack Integration feature.

Step 4: Add another action element to send an email alert using the Send Email action.

Step 5: Add a step to create a Case record with details about the failure. Use predefined fields to populate relevant information (e.g., error message, timestamp).

Step 6: Update the global monitoring dashboard to reflect the newly created case. This can be done by linking the case to a report or dashboard component.

Why Not Other Options?

A). Data actions: While data actions can perform specific tasks on data, they are not designed for cross-system automation like sending Slack notifications or creating cases.

B). Data Cloud Query Editor: The Query Editor is used for querying and analyzing data but does not provide automation capabilities for notifications or case creation.

D). Salesforce reports and dashboards: Reports and dashboards are for visualizing data, not for triggering actions or automating workflows.

By using Salesforce Flows, NTO can achieve a fully automated and integrated solution that meets all the stated requirements.

NEW QUESTION # 111

How many days of historical data is loaded when B2C Commerce Data Stream is created from the Order Bundle?

- A. 60 days
- B. 30 days
- C. 90 days
- D. 10 days

Answer: B

Explanation:

When B2C Commerce Data Stream is created from the Order Bundle, 30 days of historical data is loaded. The Order Bundle is a preconfigured data bundle that contains order-related data from B2C Commerce Cloud.
