NEW QUESTION # 98

Where in Data Integration do you specify the default member for the Multi-GAAP dimension?

- A. Execute Integration dialog box
- B. Location Attributes section of the Create Integration dialog box
- C. Options tab of the Application Details dialog box
- D. Workbench

Answer: C

Explanation:

The place in Data Integration where you specify the default member for the Multi-GAAP dimension is the Options tab of the Application Details dialog box. This is where you can set default members for any dimension that is not mapped in your integrations. The default member for Multi-GAAP will be used when loading data from sources that do not have multiple GAAPs. The other options are not places where you specify the default member for Multi-GAAP. The Workbench is where you define source files and mappings, but not default members. The Execute Integration dialog box is where you run integrations, but not specify default members. The Location Attributes section of the Create Integration dialog box is where you select target applications and scenarios, but not default members.
