Cisco Implementing Cisco Enterprise Wireless Networks Sample Questions (Q324-Q329):

NEW QUESTION # 324

A customer wants to allow employees to easily onboard their personal devices to the wireless network. The visitors also must be able to connect to the same network without the need to engage with anyone from the reception desk. Which process must be configured on Cisco ISE to support this requirement?

- A. self-registration guest portal
- B. local web auth
- C. MAC authentication bypass
- D. native supplicant provisioning

Answer: A

Explanation:

To meet the requirement of allowing employees to easily onboard their personal devices and visitors to connect without reception desk intervention, configuring a self-registration guest portal on Cisco ISE is the appropriate solution. This feature enables guests to create their own accounts and gain network access, streamlining the process for both employees' personal devices and visitors.
