- A. Increase velocity.
- B. Reorder the Product Backlog.
- C. Do the work planned in the Sprint Backlog
- D. Pull Product Backlog items for the Sprint.

NEW QUESTION # 145

What is the tactic a Scrum Master should use to divide a group of 100 people into multiple Development Teams?

- A. Ask the developers to divide themselves into teams.
- B. Create teams based on their skills across multiple layers (such as database, UI, etc.)
- C. Ask the Product Owner to assign the people to teams.

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the Nexus Guide2, which is a framework for scaling Scrum, one way to form multiple Development Teams from a large group of people is to ask them to self-organize into teams based on dependencies, skills, domain knowledge, and personal preferences. This approach respects the autonomy and empowerment of the Developers and allows them to choose how they want to work together.

NEW QUESTION # 146

How is management external to the Scrum Team involved in the Daily Scrum?

- A. The Product Owner represents their opinions.
- B. The Scrum Master speaks on their behalf.
- C. The Development Team self-manages and is the only management required at the Daily Scrum.
- D. Management gives an update at the start of each Daily Scrum.

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the Scrum Guide¹, the Daily Scrum is an event for the Developers of the Scrum Team. The purpose of the Daily Scrum is to inspect progress toward the Sprint Goal and adapt the Sprint Backlog as necessary, adjusting the upcoming planned work. The Daily Scrum optimizes the probability that the Developers will meet the Sprint Goal. Every day, the Developers should understand how they intend to work together as a self-organizing team to accomplish the Sprint Goal and create the anticipated Increment by the end of the Sprint. Management external to the Scrum Team is not involved in the Daily Scrum, as they may interfere with the self-management and empowerment of the Developers.

NEW QUESTION # 147

A product Increment must be released to production at the end of each Sprint.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is B, because a product Increment does not have to be released to production at the end of each Sprint. The Scrum Guide states that "at the end of a Sprint, the new Increment must be 'Done,' which means it must be in useable condition and meet the Scrum Team's definition of 'Done'. An increment is a body of inspectable, done work that supports empiricism at the end of the Sprint. The increment is a step toward a vision or goal." Therefore, a product Increment must be potentially releasable, but the decision to release it is up to the Product Owner.
