UiPath Automation Business Analyst Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29
What is the primary focus of the "Business Case and Technical Validation" stage?

- A. Building the automation and testing it
- B. Analyzing the As-Is process
- C. Creating documentation for project closure
- D. Evaluating business value, complexity, and feasibility of automation

Answer: D

Explanation:
The Business Case and Technical Validation stage focuses on evaluating the business value, complexity, and feasibility of the proposed automation candidates. It is an essential checkpoint before any development begins, ensuring that the chosen processes are both valuable and technically viable.
In this stage, the Automation Business Analyst assesses the potential ROI, cost-benefit analysis, and strategic alignment with business goals. Meanwhile, the Solution Architect evaluates the technical feasibility, identifying access needs, integration points, and potential risks.
By assessing these factors upfront, this stage helps prioritize processes that offer the highest value and are achievable within the project's constraints. It also ensures stakeholder alignment on why a process is being automated and how it will deliver measurable benefits.

NEW QUESTION # 30
Which document/app is used to record access required to build the automation and run it in UAT and production?

- A. Application Tracker
- B. Access Control Matrix
- C. Process Definition Document
- D. UAT Test Log

Answer: A

Explanation:
The Application Tracker is the document used to record all access requirements needed for the automation project. It includes the details of what access is needed for developers, robots, and testers during development, UAT, and production stages.
Access is one of the most common causes of project delays. Hence, the Application Tracker ensures clear documentation and tracking of which systems need access provisioning, which roles need it, and what level of access is required. It helps prevent last-minute surprises where developers or bots are blocked from interacting with key systems.
By maintaining this centralized record, project managers and infrastructure engineers can coordinate effectively with client IT teams to avoid delays, improve security compliance, and ensure timely availability of required access credentials or accounts.

NEW QUESTION # 31
Which stage of the Automation Implementation Methodology involves close monitoring of performance after deployment?

- A. Project Closure
- B. Development and Testing
- C. Business Case and Technical Validation
- D. Deployment and Hypercare

Answer: D

Explanation:
TheDeployment and Hypercarestage involves the actual go-live of the automation solution and a subsequent period ofclose monitoring, known asHypercare. During this phase, the Implementation Teamensures that the automation performs as expected in the live environment and addresses any post-deployment issues that may arise.
Key participants in this stage include thesolution architect,project manager, andautomation developers, who are responsible for monitoring system performance, user feedback, and handling production incidents.
The Hypercare period also helps in building confidence with end-users and validating that all components are functioning in accordance with business expectations.
This stage is vital for a smooth transition to long-term support and operational stability. It also allows for minor optimizations and performance tuning before the project is officially closed.

NEW QUESTION # 32
Which document helps validate if an automation idea is suitable for automation?

- A. Process Assessment Tool
- B. Solution Design Document
- C. Project Plan
- D. Application Tracker

Answer: A

Explanation:
TheProcess Assessment Toolis used tovalidate whether an automation idea is suitablefor automation. It helps determine both thebusiness valueand thetechnical feasibilityof a given process by evaluating parameters such as complexity, frequency, volume, standardization, and exception rate.
This tool is particularly useful during theDiscovery phaseorBusiness Case and Technical Validationstage.
It enables theAutomation Business Analystand stakeholders to prioritize the right automation candidates and avoid wasting resources on processes that offer little value or are difficult to automate.
The result is adata-drivendecision-making process that ensures only high-impact, feasible processes move forward into implementation.

NEW QUESTION # 33
Which document is completed and approved before defining UAT test scenarios and success criteria?

- A. Kickoff Meeting Notes
- B. Solution Design Document
- C. Process Definition Document (PDD)
- D. Project Readiness Checklist

Answer: C

Explanation:
TheProcess Definition Document (PDD)must becompleted and approvedbefore defining theUser Acceptance Testing (UAT) test scenariosandsuccess criteria. The PDD provides a detailed account of the As-Is process and forms the basis for understanding what the automation is expected to achieve.
Once the PDD is finalized, theClient Teamuses it to:
* Define what a successful automation outcome looks like
* Prepare test cases that reflect typical and exception scenarios
* Set benchmarks and expectations for functionality and performance
This ensures that UAT is structured, objective, and aligned with real-world business operations. Bypassing this sequence could lead to poorly defined tests or unvalidated business needs, increasing the risk of project failure.
