CompTIA Data+ Exam (2025) Sample Questions (Q17-Q22):

NEW QUESTION # 17

A data analyst receives four files that need to be unified into a single spreadsheet for further analysis. All of the files have the same structure, number of columns, and field names, but each file contains different values.

Which of the following methods will help the analyst convert the files into a single spreadsheet?

- A. Clustering
- B. Merging
- C. Appending
- D. Parsing

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question is part of the Data Acquisition and Preparation domain, which involves combining data from multiple sources. The files have the same structure but different values, meaning they need to be stacked vertically into one dataset.

* Merging (Option A): Merging typically involves joining datasets on a common key (e.g., a customer ID), which isn't indicated here since the files only differ in values, not keys.

* Appending (Option B): Appending stacks datasets vertically, combining rows from files with the same structure into a single dataset, which matches the scenario.

* Parsing (Option C): Parsing involves breaking down data (e.g., splitting text), not combining files.

* Clustering (Option D): Clustering is a machine learning technique for grouping similar data points, not for combining files.

The DA0-002 Data Acquisition and Preparation domain includes "executing data manipulation," such as appending datasets with identical structures.

NEW QUESTION # 18

A data analyst is preparing a survey for Paralympic Games athletes. Which of the following should the analyst consider when creating this survey?

- A. Color contrast
- B. Granularity
- C. Idioms
- D. Refresh speed

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on survey design considerations, particularly for accessibility. The survey is for Paralympic athletes, who may have visual impairments, requiring specific design considerations.

* Idioms (Option A): Idioms (e.g., colloquial phrases) might confuse non-native speakers, but they're not a primary survey design concern for Paralympic athletes.

* Color contrast (Option B): High color contrast ensures readability for athletes with visual impairments (e.g., color blindness), a critical accessibility consideration for Paralympic surveys.

* Refresh speed (Option C): Refresh speed is relevant for dashboards, not static surveys.

* Granularity (Option D): Granularity refers to data detail levels, not a survey design consideration.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "translating business requirements to form the appropriate visualization," and color contrast is a key accessibility factor in survey design for diverse audiences.

NEW QUESTION # 19

A data analyst is creating a pivot table for a large dataset for an upcoming board meeting. Which of the following is the purpose of the pivot table?

- A. To summarize and analyze the data
- B. To visualize the data in a dashboard
- C. To organize the data for reporting
- D. To retrieve and clean data from several sources

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Data Analysis domain, focusing on the purpose of a pivot table. Pivot tables are a tool for summarizing and analyzing data, often used in preparation for reporting.

* To visualize the data in a dashboard (Option A): Pivot tables summarize data but aren't visualizations; charts in dashboards might be created from pivot tables.

* To retrieve and clean data from several sources (Option B): Retrieving and cleaning data is part of data preparation, not the purpose of a pivot table.

* To summarize and analyze the data (Option C): Pivot tables aggregate and summarize data (e.g., by calculating sums, averages) and allow for analysis (e.g., filtering, grouping), which is their primary purpose.

* To organize the data for reporting (Option D): While pivot tables can help organize data, their main purpose is summarization and analysis, not just organization.

The DA0-002 Data Analysis domain includes "applying the appropriate descriptive statistical methods," and pivot tables are a key tool for summarizing and analyzing large datasets.

NEW QUESTION # 20

A manager needs a report to be sent by email every Monday for the next six months. Which of the following is the best way to accomplish this task?

- A. Developing a recurring process
- B. Building self-service access
- C. Waiting for the request each week
- D. Creating a data snapshot

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question falls under the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on report delivery methods. The task requires a report to be emailed every Monday for six months, indicating a scheduled, repeating process.

* Building self-service access (Option A): Self-service allows users to generate reports on-demand, but the manager wants automatic delivery.

* Creating a data snapshot (Option B): A snapshot captures data at a specific point, not suitable for recurring delivery over six months.

* Developing a recurring process (Option C): A recurring process schedules the report to be generated and emailed every Monday, meeting the requirement for automated delivery over six months.

* Waiting for the request each week (Option D): This is manual and inefficient, not suitable for a six-month schedule.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "the appropriate visualization in the form of a report" with delivery methods, and a recurring process is ideal for scheduled email delivery.

NEW QUESTION # 21

A data analyst is following up on a recent, company-wide data audit of customer invoice data. Which of the following is the best option for the analyst to use?

- A. PII
- B. PCI DSS
- C. ISO
- D. GDPR

Answer: D

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Governance domain of CompTIA Data+ DA0-002, which includes understanding compliance frameworks for data audits, especially for customer data. The scenario involves a data audit of customer invoice data, which likely contains personal information, making privacy regulations relevant.

* PCI DSS (Option A): PCI DSS (Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard) applies specifically to payment card data, not general customer invoice data unless credit card details are involved, which isn't specified.

* GDPR (Option B): GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) is a comprehensive privacy regulation for handling personal data of EU citizens, including customer invoice data, which may contain PII like names and addresses. It's the most relevant for a company-wide data audit.

* ISO (Option C): ISO standards (e.g., ISO 27001) relate to information security management but are not specific to customer data privacy audits.

* PII (Option D): PII (Personally Identifiable Information) is a concept, not a framework or tool for conducting an audit.

The DA0-002 Data Governance domain emphasizes "identifying PII and data privacy concepts," and GDPR is the most appropriate framework for auditing customer data to ensure compliance with privacy laws.
