Microsoft Implementing Data Engineering Solutions Using Microsoft Fabric Sample Questions (Q84-Q89):

NEW QUESTION # 84
Exhibit.

You have a Fabric workspace that contains a write-intensive warehouse named DW1. DW1 stores staging tables that are used to load a dimensional model. The tables are often read once, dropped, and then recreated to process new data.
You need to minimize the load time of DW1.
What should you do?

- A. Create statistics.
- B. Disable V-Order.
- C. Drop statistics.
- D. Enable V-O-der.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 85
You need to develop an orchestration solution in fabric that will load each item one after the other. The solution must be scheduled to run every 15 minutes. Which type of item should you use?

- A. data pipeline
- B. notebook
- C. warehouse
- D. Dataflow Gen2 dataflow

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 86
You have a Fabric workspace named Workspace1 that contains an Apache Spark job definition named Job1.
You have an Azure SQL database named Source1 that has public internet access disabled.
You need to ensure that Job1 can access the data in Source1.
What should you create?

- A. an integration runtime
- B. a managed private endpoint
- C. a data management gateway
- D. an on-premises data gateway

Answer: B

Explanation:
To allow Job1 in Workspace1 to access an Azure SQL database (Source1) with public internet access disabled, you need to create a managed private endpoint. A managed private endpoint is a secure, private connection that enables services like Fabric (or other Azure services) to access resources such as databases, storage accounts, or other services within a virtual network (VNet) without requiring public internet access.
This approach maintains the security and integrity of your data while enabling access to the Azure SQL database.

NEW QUESTION # 87
You need to resolve the sales data issue. The solution must minimize the amount of data transferred.
What should you do?

- A. Configure scheduled refresh for the dataflow.
- B. Configure incremental refresh for the dataflow. Set Store rows from the past to 1 Month.
- C. Configure incremental refresh for the dataflow. Set Refresh rows from the past to 1 Month.
- D. Spilt the dataflow into two dataflows.
- E. Configure incremental refresh for the dataflow. Set Refresh rows from the past to 1 Year.

Answer: C

Explanation:
The sales data issue can be resolved by configuring incremental refresh for the dataflow. Incremental refresh allows for only the new or changed data to be processed, minimizing the amount of data transferred and improving performance.
The solution specifies that data older than one month never changes, so setting the refresh period to 1 Month is appropriate. This ensures that only the most recent month of data will be refreshed, reducing unnecessary data transfers.

NEW QUESTION # 88
You need to recommend a Fabric streaming solution that will use the sources shown in the following table.

Name	Message size	Description
Source1	10 MB	Contains semi-structured data that has a bigint column in the messages
Source2	25 MB	Contains structured data that has 19 columns
Source3	5 MB	Contains unstructured data that has images in the messages

The solution must minimize development effort.
What should you include in the recommendation for each source? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.
