UiPath (ADPv1) Automation Developer Professional Sample Questions (Q187-Q192):

NEW QUESTION # 187

How are mock files organized in an automation project structure?

- A. They are stored in a nested structure based on the source workflow's file tree.
- B. They are stored in the same folder as the source workflow.
- C. They are stored in a dedicated folder for mock testing configuration.
- D. They are stored in a separate folder called "Mocks".

Answer: D

Explanation:

Mock files in an automation project structure are usually stored in a separate folder named "Mocks". This organization helps in managing and accessing mock data efficiently during testing.

NEW QUESTION # 188

What is the use of job priorities in unattended automations within UiPath Orchestrator?

- A. To determine which processes should be executed first when dealing with multiple jobs.
- B. To determine machine resource allocation among processes.
- C. To sort and organize tasks within a folder.
- D. To create job dependencies that must be completed before new job execution.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The use of job priorities in unattended automations within UiPath Orchestrator is to determine which processes should be executed first when dealing with multiple jobs. Job priorities are values that can be assigned to jobs or triggers when they are created or edited. The possible values are High, Normal, and Low.

Job priorities affect the order in which the jobs are executed by the robots, with higher priority jobs being executed before lower priority jobs. Job priorities can help you to optimize the execution of your unattended automations, especially when you have limited resources or time-sensitive processes. You can also use job priorities to create job dependencies that must be completed before new job execution, by using the Start Job activity with the Wait for completion option and setting the priority of the child job to High.

NEW QUESTION # 189

A developer is building an automation that must interact with a destination remote computer reached by jumping through multiple RDP connections, as described by the following scenario:

- The Robot is installed on Machine A, which connects through RDP to Machine B.
- From Machine B another RDP connection is opened to Machine C, where the automation must be performed.

Which of the following scenarios is appropriate for the developer who wants to use UI Automation activities?

- A. UI Automation can be used and the following are prerequisites:
Machine A - no requirement.
Machine B - no requirement.
Machine C - install RemoteRuntime.msi.
- B. UI Automation can be used and the following are prerequisites:
Machine A - install RDP extension.
Machine B - no requirement.
Machine C - install RemoteRuntime.msi.
- C. UI Automation can be used and the following are prerequisites:
Machine A - install RDP extension.
Machine B - install RemoteRuntime.msi.
Machine C - install RemoteRuntime.msi.
- D. UI Automation can be used and the following are prerequisites:
Machine A - install RDP extension.
Machine B - install RDP extension and RemoteRuntime.msi.
Machine C - install RemoteRuntime.msi.

Answer: D

Explanation:

To use UI Automation activities in a scenario where the destination remote computer is reached by jumping through multiple RDP connections, the following prerequisites are required:

Machine A - install the RDP extension. This extension enables the robot to generate native selectors over RDP connections and interact with the UI elements on the remote machines.

Machine B - install the RDP extension and the RemoteRuntime.msi. The RDP extension allows the robot to connect to Machine C from Machine B, while the RemoteRuntime component enables the communication between the robot and the UI elements on Machine B.

Machine C - install the RemoteRuntime.msi. This component enables the communication between the robot and the UI elements on Machine C, where the automation must be performed. References:

NEW QUESTION # 190

In the context of a process automated using the REFramework that processes payments and sends a report using the Finance team leader's email account at the end of the day, where should the email account credentials be stored according to best practices"

- A. In an Orchestrator Credential asset and referenced in the Assets sheet in the Config.xlsx file.
- B. In an Orchestrator Text asset and referenced in the Assets sheet In the Config.xlsx file.
- C. In the Constants sheet in the Config.xlsx file with the value of the email address.
- D. In an Orchestrator Credential asset and referenced in the Settings sheet in the Config.xlsx file.

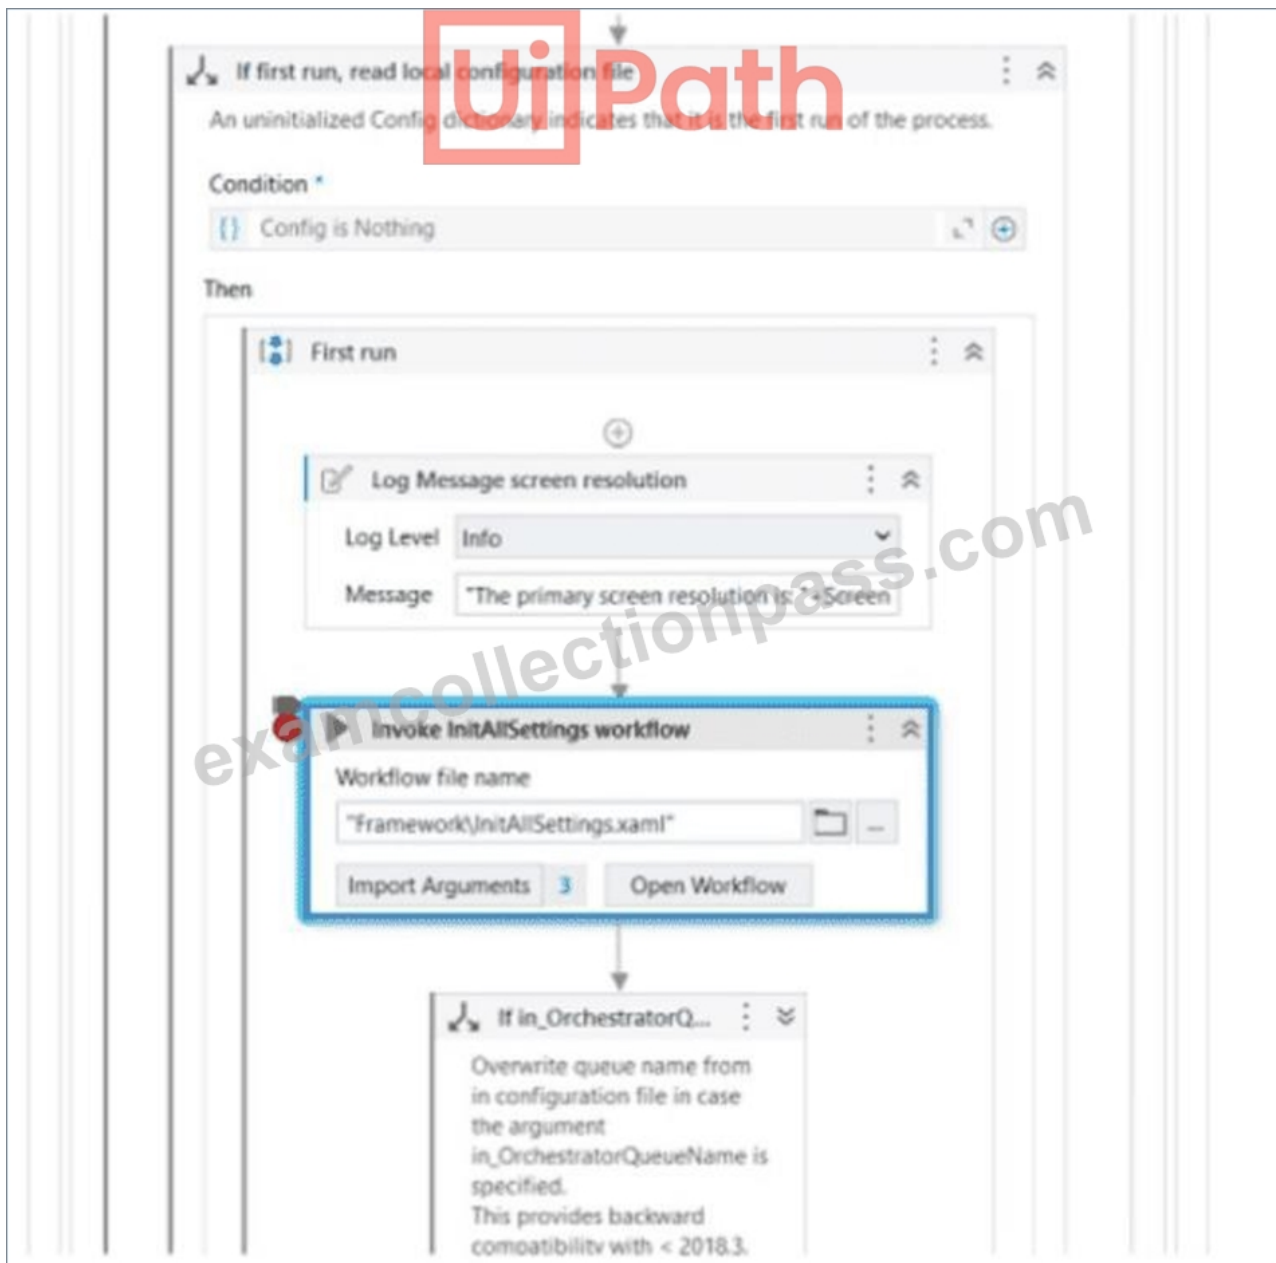

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the REFramework, best practices suggest storing sensitive information like email account credentials in an Orchestrator Credential asset. This asset is then referenced in the Config.xlsx file, specifically in the Assets sheet, ensuring secure and centralized management of credentials.

NEW QUESTION # 191

While troubleshooting a process developed using the Robotic Enterprise (RE) Framework, you have placed a breakpoint at the "Invoke InitAllSettings" workflow activity.

Given the current state of the Executor, what will occur when you click on the Step Over button?

- * Executor directs to the "If in_OrchestratorQ ..." activity
- * Executor directs to the first InitAllSettings workflow activity
- * Executor directs to the first activity outside "If first run, read local configuration" Executor directs to the "First Run" sequence

Explanation:

Answer:

Explanation:

When a breakpoint is placed at a particular activity within the workflow and the Step Over function is used, the Executor will move to the next activity in the sequence. Given the context of the REFramework, after stepping over the "Invoke InitAllSettings" workflow, the next activity that would execute is the "If in_OrchestratorQueueName ..." activity, assuming there are no activities in between within the "InitAllSettings" workflow itself. Step Over will not go into the invoked workflow but will move to the next activity at the same level of the workflow where the breakpoint was placed. References:
