NEW QUESTION # 29

Which characteristics describe an SAP HANA multitenant database container (MDC) system? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question

- A. A multitenant database container system is identified by a single system ID (SID).
- B. Database isolation increases the isolation between tenant databases on operating system level.
- C. Each tenant database runs its own compile server and the preprocessor server.
- D. The name server owns Information about the location of tables and table partitions in databases.
- E. The name server provides index server functionality for the system database.

Answer: A,B,E

Explanation:

In an SAP HANA Multitenant Database Container (MDC) system, database isolation (C) enhances the separation between tenant databases at the operating system level, increasing security and reducing the risk of interference between databases. Each tenant database operates as a separate entity, with its own set of resources, while sharing a common system database. An MDC system is identified by a single System ID (SID) (E), simplifying system identification and management. The name server's role is primarily within the system database, not directly providing index server functionality (D), and it doesn't run compile server or preprocessor server for each tenant database (A), as these services are part of the system database's infrastructure.

Which processes can run optionally as part of the Central Services instance of an AS ABAP-based SAP system? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question

- A. SAP Web Dispatcher
- B. RFC Gateway
- C. Message Server
- D. Enqueue Server

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

In the Central Services instance of an AS ABAP-based SAP system, certain processes can run optionally, complementing the core services provided by the instance. These optional processes include:

* B. RFC Gateway: The RFC (Remote Function Call) Gateway enables communication between SAP systems and between SAP systems and external systems using the RFC protocol. Running the RFC Gateway as part of the Central Services instance can facilitate centralized management of RFC communications, especially in complex landscapes requiring numerous cross-system integrations.

* C. SAP Web Dispatcher: The SAP Web Dispatcher functions as an application-level gateway, load balancer, and reverse proxy for SAP systems. While it's commonly deployed as a standalone component, in some scenarios, it may run as part of the Central Services instance to provide immediate and integrated routing and load balancing capabilities, particularly in smaller or less complex environments.

Incorporating these processes into the Central Services instance can offer administrative and operational conveniences, depending on the specific requirements and architecture of the SAP system landscape.
