NEW QUESTION # 364

A laser printer is making humming and grinding noises, and the printouts have ghost images on the pages. Which of the following should be replaced?

- A. Cartridge
- B. Fuser
- C. Rollers
- D. Paper

Answer: C

Explanation:

When a laser printer produces humming and grinding noises along with ghost images on the printouts, the issue is most likely related to the printer's rollers. These symptoms suggest that the rollers, which are responsible for feeding paper through the printer, may be worn out or dirty. This can cause them to not grip the paper properly, leading to repeated imprints or "ghosting" of images on the printouts. Replacing or cleaning the rollers should resolve both the noise and the print quality issues.
